HOOVER VIEWS ON TARIFF ARE G. O. P. WORRY

Old Guard Sits Silent Under Chiding of Harrison.

KANSAS CITY STORY STIRS RESENTMENT

President Is Pictured as Depending on Coalition.

TREADWAY, IN HOUSE, BRINGS UP DISCUSSION

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Resentment in the Senate Old Guard ranks at the course the tariff is taking was heightened yesterday by the publication of a story picturing President Hoover as looking to the Democratic-Progressive coalition to give him the kind of a bill he wants.

There was considerable opinion that the President should be called upon to say whether the story really reflected his views, and, too, there was some feeling against Senator Grundy, of Pennsylvania, for circulating it among his fellow senators which resulted in it getting publicity here.

Formal reference was made to it both in the House and the Senate.

Writer Talked With Hoover.

The story first appeared in the Kansas City Star and was written after the writer had had a long talk with Mr. Hoover. Senator Grundy had typewritten copies made and passed them around among his associates by way of confirming his suspicions, long entertained and expressed, that the President was not sympathetic to the Easterners' fight.

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, chided the Old Guard because a newspapermen had come here and, as the senator expressed it, found out the President's views when the Senate leaders had not been able to. He tried to get some of the Old Guard to mix it with him but they kept quiet except Senators Bingham and Smoot, who said Mr. Grundy had not given them a copy. Mr. Grundy subsequently said he had only prepared six copies. He sat smiling in his seat during Mr. Harrison's quips.

In the House, Representative Treadway, of Massachusetts, made a speech blaming the coalition for unemployment and Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, produced The Post's account of Mr. Grundy circulating the Kansas City Star's story to prove that Mr. Hoover was with the coalition cause.

Treadway Avoids Issue.

Asked by Representative McCormack (Democrat), of Massachusetts, if he disclaimed that the Senate Progressives were Republicans, Mr. Treadway replied, "I guess we had better not stir up the animals any more about that."

"They are not our kind of Republicans at least," he said. "They are mighty good Republicans when it comes to wanting votes out in the States that they come from. That is about the best I can say for that group." He is understood subsequently to have eliminated the reference to "animals."

Mr. Treadway's remarks brought Representative Johnson (Republican), of South Dakota, with the statement that he was getting tired of attacks on the senators from his State who had done such excellent work on the tariff. He recalled Senator George Moses' "sons of the wild jackass" attack, and declared that his people came from New Hampshire, one of his "relatives being first governor of that State."

No Suggestions Needed.

"In this body and in the other legislative body," he said, "no one has a right, coming from one part of the country, to test the Republicanism of another part of the country. The Republican voters of each individual State are attending to that, and we in South Dakota need no advice or suggestions from anybody from New England or Massachusetts or anywhere else."

There would not have been the tariff fight, he said, if the New Englanders had not "entered into a combination with regard to the two S's, sugar and shoes, and cement &c. If they had been satisfied with a reasonable tariff bill we could have passed one through this body that would have taken care of items such as ladies' shoes."

Strangely enough, the purported revelation of Mr. Hoover's views on the tariff did not please either the Progressives or the regulars. It only tickled the Democrats. The Progressives grinned dubiously and went on their way.

The regulars generally were in an ugly mood. The only public comment Senator Grundy would make was that,

LOBBY QUIZ REVEALS GRAY SHOALS PLAN

(Associated Press.)

Correspondence telling of plans of Chester H. Gray, of the American Farm Bureau Federation, to confer with President Hoover regarding the Muscle Shoals paragraph in his message to Congress and asserting that Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, "is O. K. and is doing all that he dares to do in the position which he occupies," was made public last night by the Senate lobby committee.

The correspondence was between Mr. Gray and E. A. O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation. Mr. Gray's organization has been active in opposing Government operation of Muscle Shoals and advocating the proposal of the American Cyanamid Co. to lease the power and nitrate plant.

In addition, the correspondence represented former President Coolidge as having directed the Department of Agriculture to cease preparing a bill on Muscle Shoals for presentation to Congress and as having been urged by Mr. Gray to veto the Norris bill providing for Government operation That bill was given a "pocket veto."

In a letter to Mr. O'Neal dated November 15, 1929, Mr. Gray said he had sent a letter to the White House to obtain a conference with the President, and continued:

"I expect to discuss with him the text of the Muscle Shoals paragraph in his message and whatever else I have an opportunity to present."

"Mr. Huston is in and out of Washington so much that it is not easy to contact with him either," Mr. Gray wrote. "However, he is O. K. and is doing all that he dares to do in the position which he occupies.

"I learned that he is watching his step on this for fear of being called by Caraway's committee. We do not want to urge him to do too much right now on this account."

Chairman Caraway has announced that Mr. Huston, former president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, which also advocated the Cyanamid Co.'s Muscle Shoals bid, would be called before the committee

NAVAL EXPERTS AGREE TO CURB ON SUBMARINES

Parley Advisers Frame Plan to Safeguard Merchant Ships.

SHOT TO BE RISKED BY UNDERSEA CRAFT

Even Armed Vessels Not to Be Sunk Without Warning.

PROSPECT OF BRIAND RETURN WELCOMED

V-6, Latest Submersible of U. S. Fleet, Soon to Be Launched.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON.

London, Feb. 21 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Agreement in principle was reached today that submarines in future must not sink merchant ships without warning, even if the latter are armed, but must first demand surrender and take the risk of an answering shot. The decision was taken at a meeting of the advisers of delegations at the foreign office, at which no secretary was present and no notes were taken. It is, of course, subject to review by the big five later. George Rublee represented the United States; William Malkin, legal adviser to the foreign office here, Great Britain; Rene Masigli, of the Quai d'Orsay, France, and M. Enomato, Japan.

The treaty on humanizing submarines concluded in Washington eight years ago (but never ratified by France) was examined and French modifications of its terms discussed.

The experts kept strictly away from two points regarding the status of submarines, which are reserved for consideration by the committee of the whole when the conference resumes its labors—the question of total abolition of submarines, suggested by Great Britain, and the United States' point that if the submarine is not abolished its size ought to be limited.

Disagreement on Special Classes.

The subcommittee of experts was unexpectedly unable to agree today on the question of special classes of ships and postponed the subject until next Tuesday, due to lively passages between Italian and French experts. Trouble arose because most of the experts wanted small ships outside of categories to die out after their terms of service expire, whereas France wants to be allowed to replace them.

The point is of some slight importance because these ships are those which carry not more than one 6-inch or four 3-inch guns and with a speed not exceeding 20 knots and the Italians claim the French stand is directed at increasing their tonnage permanently by keeping ships in service now and in future which do not come under limitation by categories or by total tonnage.

The French technical authorities who alone continue to function here on behalf of France are buzzing with indignation because their opposite Italian numbers at conferences calmly take out from French tonnage figures what they describe as obsolete and paper ships and decline to admit their existence. The Italian official stand seems to be that a ship not yet laid down is not a ship even if its building in future is officially announced.

CAPITAL WILL HONOR FATHER OF COUNTRY

Alexandria to Have Pageant to Be Viewed by Hoover and Throngs.

MANY EVENTS PLANNED

Setting an example for the Nation, Washington today will honor the memory of George Washington in ceremonies that will begin shortly after sunrise and will continue until long after sunset.

With stores and business establishments closed and Government employes free, virtually the entire Capital will be at liberty to celebrate the holiday. Although balmy spring skies are scheduled to give way for clouds and probably showers tonight, the unusual warm weather will continue.

Patriotic organizations will take prominent places in the observance of the 198th birthday of the Father of His Country. The ceremonies, appropriately enough, will begin at the base of the Washington Monument at 8 o'clock this morning with raising of flags of each of the 48 States. An hour later a bugle call will herald massing of colors by a Fort Washington detachment.

Capt. Allan Buchanan, naval aid of President Hoover, will represent the Chief Executive in placing the first wreath at the foot of the monument. Immediately afterward Maj. V. L. Peterson, representing Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, director of public buildings and public parks, will lay another wreath.

Several patriotic, fraternal and civic organizations will then follow with tributes. The monument will be open to the public from noon until 4 o'clock.

The high light of the holiday will be the historic ceremony at Alexandria, Va. The President and Mrs. Hoover, together with a large party which will include Secretary of War Hurley, other War Department officials and military and naval officers, will attend the celebration as guests of honor.

The President and his party will be greeted by Gov. John Garland Pollard of Virginia at the inclosed reviewing stand at Washington and Queen streets, where they will review the mammoth military and civic parade that is expected to be 2 miles in length and to require two hours to pass the stand.

At 11 o'clock in the morning the graves of fellow Masons of George Washington and the Unknown Soldier of the American Revolution will be decorated in the historic church yard of the Presbyterian Meeting House, 300 block of South Fairfax street, Alexandria.

Grand Masters of Masons from various States will conduct the first ceremony, while the second will be under the auspices of the Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, the great-niece of Gen. Washington and the last child to be born of a Washington family at Mount Vernon, will have charge of the rites at the Unknown Soldier's grave. Mrs.

OIL FIRMS ANNOUNCE $900,000,000 UNION

COURT RULING SOUGHT

New York, Feb. 21 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—A $900,000,000 merger of the Standard Oil Co. of New York and the Vacuum Oil Co., two former units of the Standard Oil "trust," which was dissolved by a consent decree of the United States Supreme Court in 1911, was announced today by the directors of both corporations.

At the same time it was revealed in a form letter to stockholders that the Government intends to test the legality of the merger in the courts. Counsel for the companies contend that the Supreme Court held in the dissolution case that after the subsidiaries had been freed from the control of the parent company, the Standard Oil of New Jersey, they would be "entitled to pursue any course of conduct lawful for any one else."

Reports were current in Wall street today that Charles Evans Hughes, who will become Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Monday, was consulted on the legal issues of the merger by the Standard Oil of New York, but these could not be confirmed.

Herbert L. Pratt, president of the Standard Oil of New York, refused to discuss the rumors. Officials of the Vacuum Oil maintained a like attitude. No statement on behalf of Mr. Hughes could be obtained. It was learned, however, that he did not take up the matter with the Washington authorities. Department of Justice officials said Walker D. Hines, New York attorney, took up the plans for the proposed merger with them.

Because of the prospect of a long court fight, the stockholders will not be asked to ratify the merger until it is finally determined whether it violates the antitrust laws.

The contract entered into by the directors provides that the two companies shall preserve their separate entities but that both shall be controlled by a holding company to be known as the General Petroleum Corporation. Three shares of General Petroleum will be given in exchange for one of Vacuum Oil and one of General Petroleum for each of Standard Oil of New York.

The letter to the stockholders of the companies, explaining the merger, said:

"The business of both companies is complementary in character. In general, the business of the New York company in the United States is primarily in crude production, refining and marketing of gasoline and kerosene; the business of the Vacuum Co. in the United States is primarily in the manufacture and marketing of high grade lubricating specialties for which it has established a world-wide reputation and market. The bulk of the business of the New York company is in the United States; the bulk of the business of the Vacuum Co. is in foreign countries."

The merger, it is pointed out, will be especially helpful in marketing

MEAD, MELLON OCCUPY CENTER OF DRY DEBATE

TREASURY OPPOSES SIROVICH PROPOSAL

Secretary Says Nonpoison Denaturants Will Not Be Suitable.

(Associated Press.)

The prohibition controversy which has been raging over Washington since before Christmas, continued yesterday in the House, where Representative Mead (Democrat), New York, urged a referendum on the dry law.

Also, Secretary Mellon set forth in a letter to Chairman Hawley, of the House ways and means committee, the Treasury Department's opposition to the Sirovich bill proposing to substitute nonpoisonous denaturants for the present formula now approved for industrial alcohol.

Besides declaring that the measure is impractical and that the proposed legislation is unnecessary, Secretary Mellon wrote that the denaturants proposed would not protect alcohol from diversion for bootleg purposes.

Canadian Troubles Cited.

Mr. Mead held the struggles of Canada with prohibition were a parallel to those in this country.

He said the futility of prohibition in the dominion had been soon realized and as a result eight of the nine provinces had repealed the law.

"After experiencing the dismal failure of prohibition," Mr. Mead said, "our people changed their minds as quickly as did the people of Canada, but unlike the wise provisions of the Canadian law on the subject, our people are unable to give expression clearly and universally to their views on the question."

Referendum Is Desired.

He said the people should have opportunity for a national referendum on dry-wet questions in order that Congress, the law enforcement commission and the people themselves could learn the attitude of the country toward prohibition.

The New Yorker presented figures to show that Canada is making a strong bid for the tourist trade from this country, and declared that millions of people went to the dominion each year and expended approximately $300,000,000 for beverages, lodging, food and auto supplies.

"Canada's tourist trade," he said, "is one of the principal factors in that country's postwar economic progress and is responsible in a large measure for the prosperity it is now enjoying."

Stolen Sloop Regained After Chase by Plane

Miami, Fla., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Giving chase in a seaplane today, Wirth Munroe, of Cocoanut Grove, regained the 29-foot sloop of Commodore Kirk Munroe from a thief who had stolen the boat from its anchorage during the night.

Sighting the craft 35 miles south of Miami, near Arsenica Key, young Munroe ordered the pilot of the seaplane to land alongside. At the point of a gun Munroe forced the thief to get the sloop under way. He then bound the man and set out for Miami with his prisoner, who said he was from Georgia, but refused to give his name.

WHITE HOUSE HINTS VETO ON PENSION BILL

FREDERICK R. LEHLBACH.

President Flays Measure as He Praises That of Lehlbach.

STATEMENT LEAVES SITUATION MUDDLED

ACTION WILL BE HELD IN ABEYANCE, HE SAYS

First Project Is Injustice to Employes, Hoover Avers in Message.

President Hoover assailed the Dale civil service retirement bill late yesterday, and used such vigorous language that it is believed he would veto the measure if Congress should send it to him, just as did his predecessor, former President Coolidge.

At the same time President Hoover praised the principles of the Lehlbach bill, a measure that was drafted at his own suggestion.

Coming as it did a few hours after a statement by Chairman Lehlbach, of the House civil service committee, that he would withdraw his bill, the President's statement complicated a situation which for a time seemed to have been cleared up.

Decision Held in Abeyance.

When he was apprised of the President's statement last night, Chairman Lehlbach said he would hold in abeyance his decision to withdraw his bill, or, as it has become known, the White House bill.

The President's statement follows:

"There has been a good deal of discussion about the Dale bill for liberalization of the civil service employes retirement act. I have been anxious to secure a proper readjustment of the civil service retirement funds and my attention has been called to certain injustices in the Dale bill by the various departments of the Government.

"The plan in the Dale bill presents the same difficulties to me that it presented to my predecessor; that is, the great injustice to those employes who, as the result of faithful and capable service, gradually rise through their years of service by promotion into higher average salaries.

Penalty Is Seen.

"They are badly penalized under that arrangement and the penalties are so large that it would be better for those employes if they took their 3½ per cent and deposited it in a savings bank. In other words, the Government contributes nothing, and actually penalizes them for their industry and faithfulness by taking part of their savings.

"The Lehlbach plan would require something more from the public treasury. But I think the Government should be willing to meet this increase. The annuities should be in proportion to the contributions made by the Government's employes.

"I think it is desirable to make that clear to the Government's employes. I am not concerned with any one plan."

Veto Is Only Hinted.

Nowhere in his statement did the President say he would veto the Dale bill. Such a conclusion was based on his remark that the bill presents the same difficulties to him that it did to President Coolidge.

In the last Congress the Dale bill passed both the Senate and House without a dissenting vote, but the House leaders, knowing that it was distasteful to Mr. Coolidge, held it up so long that it was too late to attempt to pass it over his veto.

Now the Senate has again passed the Dale bill, and it is awaiting action by the House. The indications in January were that the civil service committee would make a favorable report on it, and that it soon

HOOVER DEATH PLOT IS BARED IN LETTER

CONSUL MAKES REPORT

Mexico City, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—George Price Shaw, American Consul at San Luis Potosi, telephoned to the Associated Press tonight, confirming reports that a letter had been received by a Mexican student there from St. Louis, Mo., mentioning preparations to assassinate President Hoover.

He declared, however, that in San Luis Potosi it was believed the letter was largely "a work of imagination," and little would come of it. The Mexican authorities nevertheless began a thorough investigation.

Vicente Aurrecoechea, a student, to whom the letter was addressed, was immediately arrested, but denied knowing anything of a plot to kill Mr. Hoover. He also denied he had had any part in the shooting of President Ortiz Rubio on inauguration day.

The letter was not signed, but Consul Shaw said Aurrecoachea recognized the writing as that of Nicolas Alcorta, a former San Luis Potosi student who has a bad character in the eyes of the authorities. It was intercepted in the mail because it was addressed to Aurrecoechea as the "Soviet representative in San Luis Potosi," and had crude drawings of a bomb and of a machine gun on the envelope.

Mr. Shaw said he had informed Washington about the letter and the arrest of Aurrecoechea by telegraph and letter. He talked this afternoon by telephone with Herschel Johnson, American charge d'affairs in Mexico City.

It is understood that a photograph of Alcorta, obtained in San Luis Potosi, has been sent to the United States.

The newspaper La Prensa said it had learned Alcorta had been arrested in St. Louis, but there has been no official confirmation.

Answering protests by workers' organizations affiliated with the Communist party in Mexico, Senor Puig Casauranc, chief of the federal district government, said today that the arrests made in the Ortiz Rubio shooting investigation were motivated by signed denunciations to the police.

If these denunciations prove to be unsubstantiated, he promised that the accused would be released.

Failure of Taft to Regain Strength Worries Family

(Associated Press.)

The day-after-day failure of William Howard Taft to rally strongly from his serious illness was regarded last night as causing apprehension among those close to him.

Dr. Francis R. Hagner reported again that the condition of the former Chief Justice was not much changed. Weakness has been encroaching surely into his reserve strength

Mrs. Helen Taft Manning, a daughter, arrived yesterday from Bryn Mawr, Pa. The two sons of the distinguished jurist, Robert A. and Charles P. Taft, were holding themselves in readiness to come from Cincinnati in event of an emergency. Mrs. Taft communicated with them today by telephone.

Shortly after the 73-year-old man signed the letter to his former associates on the Supreme Court expressing regret that failing health had forced him to resign, he was reported to have ceased showing the improvement which had been encouraging to his friends. Ever since the doctors have said his condition was "unchanged."

California Bar Decides To Drop Lindsey Action

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Disbarment action proposed against former Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, for alleged acceptance of a fee while holding office, will not be taken, the board of governors of the State Bar of California announced today.

"I am very much gratified," Lindsey said when informed of the decision. "The decision does not surprise me."

A Snooper in the House

Members of the House of Representatives have been watched for one week. Recently District Supreme Court justices were spied upon by agents of the Bureau of Efficiency, who made their report to a congressional subcommittee. This time the check was made on the representatives themselves, but not by the Bureau of Efficiency. The results will appear in The Post tomorrow.

Another French cabinet crisis! The government falls. A new government takes its place. Such is the way of politics in France. David Rankin Barbee makes this political puzzle clear to the man in the street in a special article which gives insight to the intricacies of the French government.

Shall it be the Lehlbach or the Dale retirement bill? For a fortnight this question has agitated the rank and file of Government workers in Washington and elsewhere. How do other lands deal with the subject? Edward T. Folliard, who has been reporting the hearings on the Lehlbach bill, has written a story which answers the query.

Peer Leaps to Death, Ninth Victim of King Tut's Curse

Lord Westburg Leaves Note That He "Can Stand No More Horrors;" Was Friend of Carnarvon, Who Opened Pharaoh's Tomb.

London, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The tragic death of Lord Westbury today added one more to the list of those whom the superstitious believe to be dominated by an ancient Egyptian curse—"Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of a Pharaoh."

Lord Westbury, 78 years old, jumped or fell from his seventh-floor apartment in St. James' court this morning. An inquest verdict said it was suicide. Lord Westbury left behind a letter including the words:

"I can not really stand any more horrors."

The peer was known to have been worried over the unexpected death last November of his son, Richard Bethell, who was secretary to Howard Carter, famous Egyptologist.

Mr. Carter excavated the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen in Egypt six years ago. He is alive, but among the persome more or less intimately connected with the work for six years Lord Westbury's death is the ninth. It is pointed out, moreover, that the majority of them met sudden or violent death.

Lord Westbury, who was the third baron of his name, had been in ill health for some time. He lived alone in his flat under the care of a nurse When the nurse was temporarily absent this morning he went to the bathroom and there tumbled to his death. He crashed through a glass porch roof 100 feet below and struck a woman. The woman was injured and taken to the hospital.

The first death among those who were in any way connected with the Tut-ankh-amen expedition was that of Lord Carnarvon, the original discoverer of the tomb, who was, incidentally, an intimate friend of Lord would be on the way to the White House again.

Then, suddenly, Chairman Lehlbach introduced his new bill, a measure, it later developed, that had been drafted by experts of the Bureau of Efficiency and the Bureau of the Budget at the suggestion of the President.

The President long has been interested in retirement legislation, and when he was Secretary of Commerce stated frankly that he believed the existing system to be inadequate.

Employes Widely Divided.

In the hearings that were held by the House civil service committee this week, it was revealed that the employes were widely divided on the merits of the new Lehlbach bill.

Luther C. Steward, president of the National Federation of Federal Employes, strongly indorsed the bill, saying that it was much more liberal than the Dale bill.

Robert H. Alcorn, chairman of the joint conference on retirement, which is made up of twelve groups of employes, active and retired, not only found fault with certain provisions of the bill, but voiced the fear that it could not pass both House and Senate in time to become a law.

Lehlbach Makes Statement.

Faced with this situation, Chairman Lehlbach yesterday issued this statement:

"No one is desirous of enacting retirement legislation at this session of Congress more than I am. It is my conviction that the new Lehlbach bill, if considered on its merits, would have become a law just as soon as the Dale bill. Upon the suggestion of new legislation on the subject of retirement a panic seized some who were interested. They believed that consideration of any retirement legislation other than the Dale bill in the form in which it passed the Senate would preclude the passage of any bill on the subject. The opposition to the new bill, motivated by fear of the postponement of legislation, was based not on the merits of the proposed measure, but on exaggerations, distortions and misconceptions of its provisions. I am convinced that a calm and dispassionate consideration of the provisions of the new Lehlbach bill will win for its the support of all who are capable of understanding.

"However, it is useless to reason with people who are obsessed with a groundless fear, and it is obvious that in the present circumstances a fair consideration of the bill can not be obtained. Consequently I withdrew the bill from present consideration and will request my committee at its next session to report the Dale bill.

"Later, I will again submit the new bill convinced that once its provisions are understood it will become law."

ESTRANGED HUSBAND KILLS WIFE AND MAN

SURRENDERS TO POLICE

Los Angeles, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Mrs. Vera M. Gingell, 36, an actress, and Sigurd Bjorneby, a musician, were shot and killed early today in a downtown apartment house by Augustus Gingell, 38, Glendale, Calif., merchant and estranged husband of the woman. Gingell walked from the apartment and surrendered to police.

Police said Mrs. Gingell, known at motion-picture studios as Vera Dennis and Vera Ryan, met Bjorneby, also known as Frank Burnaby, while the two were working on the same Hollywood movie lot. Gingell told police he became estranged from his wife shortly after she became acquainted with the musician.

Surrendered to Policeman.

Employes in Gingell's place of business said he had been brooding over his domestic trouble for several days and yesterday learned that his wife had rented an apartment. Early today, police said, Gingell broke down the door of the apartment and fired five shots, killing both his wife and Bjorneby instantly.

The shooting aroused occupants of the building and they saw Gingell walk from the apartment and surrender to a policeman.

"I've just killed my wife and her lover," Gingell told the officer.

Gingell said his wife left him because he had been drinking. He said he was employed at a meat market, but recently lost his job. Gingell said that when he entered the apartment he intended to commit suicide after killing the couple, but "lost my nerve."

Once Lived in Washington.

In Gingell's pockets, police found two letters addressed to his wife's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Ramsay, Modesto, Calif., revealing a plan to slay the girl. Gingell said his only relative was his mother, Mrs. F. C. Gingell, of 832 Woodland avenue, Toledo, Ohio.

Gingell said he had separated from his wife twice, first in Washington, D. C., and once before in Los Angeles. They moved here from Washington several months ago.

They were married in Portland, Oreg., in 1919.

Cassidy to Await Grand Jury Action

Alleged Senate Bootlegger and Anohter Held by Court Order.

George Cassidy, reputed Congressional bootlegger, and John T. Gately, a companion, both of whom were arrested last Tuesday by prohibition agents near the Senate Office Building on charges of transporting and possessing liquor, were ordered held for the grand jury yesterday by Judge John P. McMahon in Police Court.

Agents testified that they have been shadowing the fovements of Cassidy in the vicinity of the capitol since his arrest about two months ago. They said they found six quarts of "Old Tom" Scotch whisky in the possession of the two men when they caught them Tuesday.

Counsel for Cassidy argued that he had nothing to do with the liquor, as none was found in his actual possession. The "man in the green hat" was indicted by a grand jury some time ago on a similar charge, but he has not been placed on trial, a plea in abatement to the indictment having been filed.

Drinking of Radiator Solution Fatal to Two

Lyons, Nebr., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Two men died today and three others were seriously ill after drinking from a jug which they thought contained wine. A coroner's jury found that the deaths were due to drinking an automobile radiator solution, a jug of which had been stolen from a Lyons home.

Lawrence Kohlmeier, 23, and Nelson Jarvis, 27, were the two who died. Jarvis' 18-year-old brother, Leon, and two other youths, Hollis Cleveland, 19, and Reuben Roberg, 23, are all in a critical condition.

Hospital Patient Is Killed by Train

Talbert W. Wagner, 40 years old, a patient at St. Elizabeths Hospital, was killed when he was struck by a train in the hospital grounds yesterday afternoon.

George Luckett, the engineer, told police that he was looking out of the right-hand side of the locomotive cab at the time that Mr. Wagner approached the track from the left. The engineer said that he did not see the man until he was almost on the track and did not have time to stop the engine. William Singleton, colored, the fireman, was shoveling coal at the time of the accident, Mr. Luckett said.

The railroad track is a private branch connecting with the power plant of the hospital. The fireman and engineer are both employed by the hospital. Mr. Wagner had served in the Marine Corps. He was a native of Keyser, W. Va. He had been in the hospital since July, 1927.

Planning Commission Says Auditorium Is Not Suited for Needs.

OTHERS APPROVED IDEA

The death knell of the bill authorizing the acquisition of the Washington Auditorium, Nineteenth and E streets northwest, as an armory for the District of Columbia National Guard, probably was sounded yesterday when the National Capital Park and Planning Commission formally disapproved the proposal. The bill was introduced in the House of Representatives on January 7 by Representative Frank L. Bowman, of West Virginia, and authorized the expenditure of $1,000,000 for the acquisition of the structure.

The Merchants and Manufacturers Association, of which Maj. Gen. Anton Stephan, commandant of the District National Guard, is president, indorsed the measure at a meeting of its board of governors on January 17, and Col. Robert N. Harper, president of the corporation that owns the auditorium, was understood to have been heartily in favor of the bill.

In rejecting the proposal, the Park and Planning Commission expressed the opinion that the Washington Auditorium is wholly unsuitable for use as an armory, and authorized its staff of specialists to make a study of other available locations and types of buildings to house the District militia, which has been trying to get a permanent home for more than a quarter of a century.

The District National Guard is now housed in one of the old Government hotel buildings between the Capitol and the Union Station, but these quarters have always been inadequate and are soon to be razed to make way for the proposed plaza park. The guard will then be shifted to the historic National Hotel, Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, which is in process of acquisition by the Government as part of the site for the new municipal center. How long the National Hotel will be left standing is problematical, but under present plans its site will be the last to be cleared for a building in the new group. At that time, however, the guardsmen must again seek new quarters unless a permanent home is provided in the meantime.

Man Attempts Twice To End Life by Poison

Gulping down poison on two occasions last night in Forrestville, Md., in what Fifth Precinct police termed suicidal attempts, Owen Thomas, colored 25 years old, was treated at Providence Hopital and removed by police to Gallinger Hospital.

Thomas was reported to have drunk a small quantity of the poison at the Forrestville home of his uncle, Albert Thomas, but the bottle was knocked from his hand. A short time later he was said to have swallowed the contents of another bottle in his own home nearby.

TAX WORK IS EXPLAINED

(Associated Press.)

The presentment returned by a New York grand jury charging him with being "indiscreet" in relations with the late Arnold Rothstein, slain Broadway gambler, led Rolland L. Nutt last night to deny he had known or ever seen the man.

A Washington lawyer and son of L. G. Nutt, head of the narcotic division at the Treasury Department, he was censured by the January Federal jury along with his father and his brother-in-law, L. P. Mattingly.

In his statement the younger Nutt said that published implications that he "had been engaged to represent Arnold Rothstein in connection with alleged operations of so-called narcotic drug rings" were untrue.

Answering the presentment, Mr. Nutt explained that he was engaged principally in Federal income tax practice. He had represented some clients of Mr. Mattingly while the latter was a tax consultant and said in that way some proposed additional income tax assessments against Rothstein had been referred to him in January, 1926.

Mr. Nutt said that, as it happened, he "rendered no service in connection with this income tax assessment, received no fee and asked none."

"That is all I know about Arnold Rothstein," he continued. "* * * I never have as an attorney or otherwise in any way, even remotely, been connected with any narcotic matter."

Savoy, 24 years old, of Hyattsville, Md. They were charged with possession of liquor and possession of material for the manufacture of liquor. The still was reported cold when the squad staged the raid.

Auto, Liquor and Dog Seized.

FOUR RADIO BOARD MEN ARE APPROVED

SOME CRITICISM HEARD

(Associated Press.)

Hastening consideration, the Senate yesterday confirmed the nominations of four of the five members of the Federal Radio Commission without record votes. Terms of the commissioners expire tonight.

Without opposition the nominations of Ira E. Robinson, West Virginia, for a two-year term; of Eugene O. Sykes, of Mississippi, for a three-year term, and of Harold A. Lafount, of Utah, for a five-year term, were approved.

Senator Wheeler (Democrat), Montana, voiced objection to relations between Commissioner Charles McK. Saltzman, of Iowa, and Lawrence Richey, one of President Hoover's secretaries, in the employment of Thad Brown, of Ohio, as chief counsel for the commission. However, he did not stand in the way of confirmation of Mr. Saltzman for a six-year term.

The nomination of the fifth member, William D. L. Starbuck, of Connecticut, for a four-year term, went over until Monday at the insistence of Senator Wheeler. He explained he wanted opportunity to investigate information given him about Mr. Starbuck.

Senator Couzens (Republican), Michigan, denied a charge that a "deal" had been made to assure renomination of Commissioners Robinson and Sykes, but he declared that he suggested to President Hoover that the commission be allowed to stand as it was in view of rumors that power companies were "out to get" the two commissioners.

Plane Crash Hurts Four in Baltimore

Two Are Critically Injured When Engine Fails 200 Feet Up.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Capt. Lyman Patterson, 31, aviation instructor, and C. W. Carnan, jr., 22, student aviator, both of Baltimore, were injured critically tonight in the forced landing of a new cabin monoplane that was being tested over Logan Field. Thomas L. Kane, 22, Perryville, Md., student aviator, and Harris E. Kirk, jr., 29, of Baltimore, passengers in the plane, were less seriously injured.

The motor of the plane, which was to be taken on a Southern trip tomorrow by Capt. Patterson, failed as the craft was about 200 feet from the ground. It fell nose down and was badly damaged. The motor was buried in the earth and one wing torn off.

Patterson and Carnan were unconscious when lifted from the wreckage and rushed to hospitals. Capt. Patterson was reported to have a fracture of the skull and broken legs and feet. Carnan has a possible skull fracture, broken left leg and severe body lacerations. The condition of Kane and Kirk was reported to be serious. All of the party, with the exception of Kane, are employes of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service.

C., 100 members of the corps were brought here in a special train today and placed in quarantine at the Navy Yard. Since the transfer one new case has developed, it was said.

Comdr. C. C. Kress, medical officer in charge of the dispensary, said the quarantine would be maintained for three weeks or longer if new cases developed.

Sentence Stands In Contempt Case

Woman Not Notified to Come to Trial, Is Plea Made Unofficially.

Although court officials said that Dorothy M. Davis, 24 years old, of Fourteenth street northeast, near F street, who was sentenced to serve 48 hours in jail for contempt of court because she was late for trial Thursday, had not been notified that her case was to be called, Judge Isaac R. Hitt, who passed the sentence, said he had heard nothing officially to that effect and indicated the woman would be permitted to serve her sentence.

Investigation yesterday revealed that the court had sent no notice to the woman and that efforts of her bondsman, Milton S. Kronheim, to locate her early Thursday had been unavailing. The woman is said to have several addresses, and attaches of Mr. Kronheim's office are said to have left notices of her impending trial at each of these.

It was in answer to one of these notices that she appeared Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Court had adjourned and Judge Hitt told her he would make an example of her and sent her to jail for 48 hours. The woman was scheduled for jury trial on a charge of "tapping" a gas main.

Two New Leviathans Planned by U. S. Lines

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The two new express liners of the United States Lines, specifications and plans for which were presented Wednesday in Washington for review by the Shipping Board and the Navy Department, will be named Leviathan the Second and Leviathan the Third, respectively, Paul C. Chapman, president of the line, announced today.

The reason for adhering to the same name, Mr. Chapman explained, is that it is "as invested with wartime traditions as the old frigate Constitution."

The present Leviathan, which is being redecorated and renovated, will imake her first spring sailing on April 12.

POLICE BATTLE REDS IN CHICAGO RIOTING

CITY HALL IS STORMED

Chicago, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Rallying to the cry "Wages and work" several hundred Communist sympathizers marched on the City Hall today to sound a protest against unemployment. Riot squads and mounted police broke up the demonstration, charging down the crowded sidewalks and swinging clubs among the noonday throngs.

Night sticks thudded against the heads of pedestrians and several were knocked down as they scampered before the mounted officers or tried to harangue their followers from boxes at the four corners of the City Hall square. None was seriously hurt. Two girls were among the eleven arrested by the police. The demonstrators themselves offered no violence.

The demonstration began at a mass meeting in a hall on North Wells street, a block from the City Hall. Police had been warned of the meeting and detectives filtered through the hall listening to inflammatory speeches advocating Soviet doctrines and urging a parade.

Reserves Are Called.

When the thousand men and women started to form a procession in threes the detectives sounded an alarm, reserves were called out and the file of marchers was cut before it could advance. Paul Cline, 26, was arrested as he directed the parade.

Remnants of the agitators moved on the City Hall in small groups and found 150 police, half of them mounted, forming a cordon around the building prepared to break up any gathering. Stump speakers gathered knots of their followers around them, but were knocked down by the charging police.

At the east door of the building on Clark street, where hundreds of pedestrians on their way to luncheon had joined the crowd, one of the leaders tossed Communist handbills into the air. Four police immediately spurred their horses to the sidewalk, and, riding abreast, swept the pedestrians before them and cleared the walk.

Guards Protect Thompson.

Within a half hour the demonstration was at an end, but special guards were posted around the city and Federal Building and Mayor Thompson's office as a precaution. The agitators, however, had offered nothing more violent than a stump speech.

The handbills, most of which were confiscated by the police, called for an "international demonstration against unemployment on Thursday, March 6." "Unemployment is increasing," the bills read. "The crisis is sharpening. Everywhere misery and suffering increases daily. Heavy wage cuts go hand in hand with the increase in unemployment."

The Nation's unemployed were estimated at 7,000,000 and the prediction was made that 10,000,000 will be out of work by summer. The literature demanded a seven-hour day, five-day week and no overtime work. It called for another mass meeting Sunday.

STRANDED SEAMEN RECEIVE U. S. HELP

State Department Provides Aid for American Crew of Arcturus.

METCALF HELP SOUGHT

(Associated Press.)

State Department officials said last night that arrangements had been made to care for a group of American seamen stranded at St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, and that transportation back to the United States would be given them.

The State Department, it was added, acting through its agencies in that territory, has already given relief to the seamen who are American citizens.

Pawtucket, R. I., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The steamer Arcturus, which left New Bedford, Mass., on December 7 for the Cape Verde Islands, with 100 passengers, a crew of 30, and a cargo of automobiles and general merchandise, was towed almost 700 miles, leaking badly, by the British steamer Cordelia, according to a letter received by Mrs. Charles C. Harris, of this city, from her husband, chief engineer of the Arcturus.

The letter was mailed January 18 from St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, where Mr. Harris and others of the crew are stranded, and was received Wednesday. It related that the Arcturus had run out of food and water.

Mrs. Harris yesterday sought assistance from a former employer of her husband, who communicated with Senator Metcalf, of Rhode Island. Senator Metcalf conferred with the State Department and was assured that measures would be taken to assist the stranded seamen.

WASHINGTON IS PAID TRIBUTES OVERSEAS

BANQUET HELD IN BERLIN

Paris, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Ambassador Walter E Edge tonight presided over an international dinner on the eve of Washington's Birthday. He was greeted by a large turnout from the American colony in Paris, including the members of the American Chamber of Commerce and of the American Club, who sponsored the banquet.

Official France was represented by Senator Henry Berenger, former French Ambassador to Washington and joint signer of the Franco-American debt settlement. He greeted Ambassador Edge as a "worthy successor to Myron T. Herrick and a man who has at heart the continuation of close relations between France and America."

In reply Mr. Edge said that the name of Mr. Herrick had become the symbol of Franco-American understanding and world peace. He said the late American Ambassador would be happy to know that representatives of the five greatest world nations were meeting now voluntarily in London to limit their naval power.

Mr. Edge emphasized that Americans have a well defined business diplomacy which seeks to encourage American trade generally without promoting any single American firm or interest.

Remarking that France and the United States were bound together by an increasing body of common interests, the ambassador reminded that "we are bound together with tangible bonds we cannot break; we are indissolubly linked."

He dwelt upon how Lafayette, De Rochambeau and De Grasse had striven side by side with Washington, who had written, "If France delays timely and powerful aid in this critical posture of our affairs, it will avail as nothing should she attempt it thereafter."

Berlin, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The traditional Washington's Birthday banquet was held tonight in the historic Kaiserhof Hotel with Ambassador Frederic C. Sackett facing the assembled American colony for the first time since his arrival here.

"The principles voiced by George Washington in his Farewell Address still guide the United States," said Dr. Sackett, "and the world will not go wrong if it takes those principles as a guide to the present American attitude in international affairs."

The gathering was the largest in the club's history.

Youth Goes Free In Shooting Case

Stepfather, Who Was Wounded, Fails to Appear to Prosecute Charge.

Harry Vincent Hazel, a 17-year-old bank runner, who shot his stepfather, H. Spencer Lowe, last week when the youth returned to their home at 1717 R street northwest, and, according to his story, found the man mistreating his mother, was freed yesterday when the Government dropped charges of assault with a dangerous weapon.

When the case was called in court yesterday morning before Judge John P. McMahon, Assistant United States Attorney Charles B. Murray announced that a nolle prosequi had been entered. The youth smiled broadly as he left the courtroom.

Later Mr. Murray explained that Mr. Lowe had failed to answer a subpena to appear for the hearing on the charges, and that therefore there was no prosecuting witness. He also pointed out that Mr. Lowe all along had contended that the shooting was an accident. Mr. Lowe was only slightly wounded, having remained at Emergency Hospital only four days.

NEW REVOLUTIONARY WAR DATA ACQUIRED

U. S. Collector Obtains British Army Records and Letters of Washington.

20,000 PAPERS IN LOT

New York, Feb. 21 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—One of the most important collections of Washingtoniana, including the headquarters documents of the British army in America during the War of Independence, bound in 62 volumes, has been acquired by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, well-known Philadelphia book collector, it was announced today.

These documents have been in the possession of the Royal Institution of Great Britain since 1804, five years after its foundation by an American, Benjamin Thompson, afterward Count Rumford. The manuscripts number about 20,000 and were collected by Sir Guy Carleton, afterward Lord Dorchester, who was commander in chief of the British army in America from 1782 to 1788.

Dr. Rosenbach, who refused to name the purchase price, said that it was the most valuable acquisition he has made in his career as book collector. The reason the Royal Institution parted with these historical records, he explained, was that it found it necessary to reconstruct its original building.

According to Victor Hugo Paltsits, chief of the American history division and keeper of manuscripts at the public library, Dr. Rosenbach's acquisition has an approximate value of "some hundreds of thousands of dollars, in my personal opinion."

The collection includes 69 letters of George Washington addressed to Sir Henry Clinton and Sir William Howe, most of which have not been published. There is also the correspondence of Sir William Howe, Lord Barrington, Lord North, Lord George Germain, Earl Shelburne, Gen. Burgoyne, Maj. John Andre, William Franklin, son of Benjamin Franklin; Lord Cornwallis, Lord Amherst and Sir James Wright.

"The collection of American manuscripts," Dr. Rosenbach stated, "is by far the finest ever brought to this country. On account of its great historical value as a whole it will always be kept together.

"The letters of the American loyalists, or those who took sides with Great Britain, comprise the finest collection known. The papers relating to the capture and evacuation of New York constitute the largest extant mass of material on the subject."

The original of the famous diary, or orderly book, of Sir William Howe, from June 17, 1775, to May 26, 1776, is also included in the collection.

Washington Letter Bares Refusal of Job to Kinsman

Newly Found Document Shows President Disregarded Family Connections in Appointments; Advised Foreign Relative Americans Had Preference.

Boston, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The Christian Science Monitor, in a dispatch from Vienna, today said that among the important documents possessed by Georg Freiherr von Washington, last member of the European branch of the Washington family, were records of the family history written by his grandfather, James Washington, and a letter from President George Washington of the United States. Herr von Washington died recently in Graz, capital of the Austrian Province of Styria.

The letter from President Washington to James Washington revealed that the "father of the United States" was frank in stating that family connections were not a means to public appointments.

After informing the recipient of the letter that there was little doubt that they both descended from the same stock, President Washington said: "The regular course of application for military appointments is to the President of the United States, through the Secretary of War—but it would be deceptious not to appraise you beforehand that it does not accord with the policy of this Government to bestow office—civil or military—upon foreigners to the exclusion of our own citizens; first, because there is an animated zeal in the latter to serve their country, and secondly, because the former, seldom content with the rank they sustained in the service of their own country, look for higher appointments in this; which, when bestowed, unless there is obvious cause to justify the measure, is pregnant with discontent—and therefore is not often practiced except in those branches of the military science which relate to engineering and gunnery; for in these our military establishment is defective, and men of known and acknowledged abilities, with ample testimonials thereof, would certainly be encouraged.

"Deeming it better to give this candid detail than to raise hopes that might prove fallacious is the best apology I can offer for my plain dealing.

"At the same time, be pleased to accept assurance of my being, sir,

"Your most obedient and humble servant. G. WASHINGTON."

The great-grandfather of the James Washington referred to in the letter fled from England in 1684 or 1685, and reached Holland via Portugal, and was the ancestor of the European branch of the family. Georg Freiherr von Washington was honorary knight of the Order of St. John and captain of horse (Rittmeister).

welcomed on all sides as the only hope of a French climb down is seen in his moderation, although it is recognized that the weak government now formed will have a vigilant critic in Tardieu if Tardieu's program is toned down.

But all guesses as to the effect on the French attitude of the Paris political crisis remain nothing more than guesses.

The British ministers on their country's delegation have, I gather, been giving their views of the situation with some freedom to their fellow members of Parliament in the lobbies and have expressed gratitude to such vigilant critics as former Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill and former Premier Lloyd George for preserving silence during the conference.

France and America Blamed.

The impression among labor M. P.'s, some of whom have enjoyed private talks with British delegates, is that the British blame the French first and the Americans second for the present deadlock, the French because of their big building program and the Americans because they say the United States refusal to discuss battleship reduction and a holiday in this class of ship until other issues are out of the way has deprived the conference of a resounding success at the outset that would have raised its moral credit and impressed outside opinion.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson motored into London today from Stanmore, his country place, lunched with Lord Grey, former foreign minister, read his mail and then returned to the country.

Latest U. S. Submarine Ready.

While the naval disarmament conference at London is still arguing over abolition of the submarine, the Navy Department yesterday announced that on March 15 the latest of the United States fleet submarines will be launched at Mare Island, Calif.

On that day the submarine V-6 will slip down the ways, after having a bottle of something smashed over its prow by Miss Jean Keesling, of San Francisco. The V-6 is a 371-foot submersible of 2,760 tons displacement on the surface and 3,960 tons submerged, and with quarters for 9 officers, 9 chief petty officers and 70 other enlisted men.

The V-6 is one of nine fleet submarines authorized by the act of August 28, 1916. Four of the craft are now in operation. Three are under construction, while two have not been laid down as yet.

Parity Stand of Grandi Is Praised by Italians

Rome, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Dino Grandi, head of the Italian naval delegation at the London conference, and Rear Admiral Giuseppe Sirianni, arrived here tonight and were greeted by high foreign office officials. Signor Grandi expects to report to Premier Mussolini on Saturday.

Signor Grandi is hailed as a hero by the Italian people because of his uncompromising stand for naval parity with France. The newspapers praise him, as do the people in general. Motion pictures audiences cheer when he appears in news reels.

Two Are Crushed In Coal Avalanche

Steam-Shovel Works Under Flood Lights Seeking Five Missing.

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—At least two men were crushed to death today beneath 900 tons of coal which fell 15 feet as a steel girder gave way under the weight of a new steel and concrete coal pocket in The Bronx.

A steam shovel, working under flood lights, continued the search for five men still missing, and for an automobile which had been standing under the structure when it collapsed.

The men killed were a workman known only as O'Rourke and a Negro about 50 years old. Two other Negroes—George H. Cotten, 47, and Jesse Pigram, 20, were partly buried, but were saved by workmen.

LEADERS AT PARLEY BATTLE PESSIMISM

DELEGATES ARE RESTIVE

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Another postponement of the London naval conference after Wednesday arrives with no French representation is forecast in reports reaching official channels from the American delegation. Prime Minister MacDonald and Secretary Stimson have been in conference as to what steps, if any, may be taken to cope with the spreading pessimism and public uneasiness which are resulting from the deadlock and delay. Something is imperatively required to inject new life into the proceedings and efforts will be made to have the United States assume this burden.

Inspired suggestions from the British have aimed at procuring a statement from President Hoover with respect to the Anglo-French plan of strengthening the Kellogg pact by having the United States agree to consult with the European powers in case of a threatened violation of the pact. But the President has not commented and warnings from the United States Senate against any such proposal have been cabled to London.

An alternative suggestion for rescuing the conference from the doldrums is understood to have been advanced by Secretary Stimson. This suggestion calls for a hurried compilation of the first draft of the plan to humanize submarine warfare. As the powers are not adverse to humanizing submarine warfare on paper and as all the signatories signed the Washington treaty to humanize submarine warfare, the present project is to embody provisions similar to those contained in the Washington treaty in an arrangement to be made public next week.

The Anglo-American view is that if a preliminary draft of such a pact were made public next Tuesday or Wednesday, with appropriate comment as to its extreme importance, there might be a check on the gloom and uneasiness which are enshrouding the latest negative developments at the conference.

Both Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Stimson have in reserve an agreement not to replace battleships authorized under the Washington treaty and this can be brought forward at an appropriate time and advertised as a great achievement saving the American taxpayers $400,000,000. But it is not desired to waste this ammunition until the conference is about over, at which time the $400,000,000 saving is to be proclaimed as signalling marked success. A complication has arisen because the Senate may revise even this replacement program by insisting upon immediate parity instead of parity in 1941, as would result from the replacement agreement which is the basis of the Stimson-MacDonald understanding.

However, Mr. Stimson believes that a proclaimed saving of $400,000,000 will be hailed with delight by Americans despite the fact that this saving is to result from scrapping ships which no nation has had any intention of building.

Woman Is Hanged For Arizona Killing

Mother Goes to Her Death Calmly; Is Decapitated When Trap Springs.

Florence, Ariz., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The State of Arizona today performed the disagreeable task of hanging a woman, Eva Dugan, 52, mother of two children, for the murder three years ago of A. J. Mathis, aged rancher of Tucson, Ariz.

This was the first execution of a woman in Arizona, and it was witnessed by six other women, including the prison matron. Mrs. Dugan remained outwardly calm to the last, even smiling grimly as a guard slipped the black hood over her head.

The steel gallows trap at the State Penitentiary swung open at 5:02 a. m. Body and head parted as the noose jerked, and physicians said she died instantly. Mrs. Dugan almost escaped the gallows. In her cell was found a small bottle of poison, which the vigilance of the death watch presumably prevented her using. Warden Lorenzo Wright started an investigation into how she procured it. Mrs. Dugan's attorneys had exhausted every legal effort to save her.

BUSINESS MEN OPEN CHICAGO CRIME WAR

AMPLE FUNDS PROVIDED

Chicago, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Indignation developed into action today as the Chicago Association of Commerce instructed its "secret" committee to go forward with a drive on rackets and crime. The committee, appointed a few weeks ago while the city was in the grip of a periodic crime wave made its first report to the executive body today and the executive body approved its plans to go seriously into the business of prosecution.

The plans called for creation of a permanent committee for the prevention and punishment of crime and clothed that committee with power to engage legal counsel, special investigators, special prosecutors, undercover men and a technical staff; also, the committee may "arrange for the protection of witnesses and take all proper means to accomplish its definite purpose."

The report said the "secret" committee had assurance of ample financial support to carry the program through to completion.

Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the association, was chairman of the "secret" committee. The other six members remained unnamed.

"It is clear from even the most casual observance," said the report, "that there exists in this community a situation which can not be adequately dealt with by any temporary measures such as are commonly adopted.

"Permanent improvement can not be expected until the underlying situation is corrected by the arrest, vigorous prosecution and punishment of those guilty of crimes of violence, extortion, intimidation and the obstruction of justice.

"It is, therefore, safe to assume that this greater and more important task, looking to the protection of life and property as well as the preservation of the inalienable right to conduct legitimate pursuits without fear of intimidation and violence, will require undivided attention coupled with vigorous and untiring effort until the job is finished."

U.S. Supreme Court To Get Snook Plea

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The United States Supreme Court will be petitioned next Monday to stay further the execution of Dr. James H. Snook, former Ohio State University professor, under sentence to die in the electric chair February 28 for the murder of Theora Hix, university coed.

The announcement was made this evening by his attorney, E. O. Ricketts, after Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall of the Ohio Supreme Court had refused to grant an application for another 30 days respite. Should the Federal tribunal in Washington refuse to grant a stay that would permit that court to consider Snook's application for a writ of certiorari in order to have his case reviewed by the highest court of the land, then appeal will again be made to the Ohio tribunal next Tuesday afternoon, Ricketts said.

Chief Justice Marshall in refusing to grant the stay today, suggested to Ricketts that he present the matter to the entire court next Tuesday afternoon. In the meantime Ricketts will have asked the Washington tribunal for a stay.

Alleged Strikers Wreck Cafeteria

50 Smash Counters and Dishes in Midst of Noon-Hour Rush.

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Fifty men and women, alleged members of the Amalgamated Food Workers Union, wrecked the interior of the Benrod Cafeteria, in Seventh avenue, today during the noon-hour rush.

All but one, Rose Kaplan, 26, escaped in the excitement that followed. Police said that the alleged food workers, who are on a strike, entered the cafeteria in groups of four and five and scattered at tables among the more than 500 other patrons.

At a given signal, they charge, Miss Kaplan jumped upon a table yelling "Restaurant workers are on a strike," with which the others started upsetting tables, breaking dishes and fixtures and smashing counters.

Patrons rushed for the door. Max Samuels, proprietor, was knocked down and beaten. He estimated the damage at $1,500 besides the loss in unpaid checks.

Surf Yields Man's Body; Foul Play Is Suspected

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The body of an elderly man, well dressed, was found partially submerged in the surf on Hollywood Beach near here today. No means of identification were found except a laundry mark bearing the letters "F N." Authorities said he appeared to have been about 60 years old and weighed slightly more than 100 pounds.

Indications were that the body was cast up by the tide only a few hours before it was discovered by a woman guest at a resort hotel who was gathering sea shells on the beach. A bruise on the temple led officials to suspect that the man had been slain. An inquest was ordered.

Cardinal Ill of Blood Infection.

Vatican City, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Cardinal Perosi, secretary of the Consistorial congregation, today underwent an operation in an effort to combat general blood infection. The operation, which was performed by Prof. Bastianelli, reduced the Cardinal's fever, but his condition still was disquieting and his relatives were summoned. The Cardinal, who is 68 years old, had a foot amputated two years ago in an effort to combat the same malady.

Marcus Garvey Jailed in Jamaica.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Marcus Garvey, Negro "Back to Africa" leader, today was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for publishing a seditious libel against the Government in his newspaper, The Black Man.

Dartmouth Secretary Dies.

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Prof. Eugene Clark, secretary of Dartmouth College, died here today of heart failure. He had been ill with pneumonia for two weeks and was thought to be on the road to recovery.

Strawn, Chicago "Dictator," Says He Has "Jackass Job"

Lawyer Declares He Holds No Selfish Interest in Helping City Adjust Tax Tangle But That "Somebody Had to Do It."

Chicago, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—He may be Chicago's "dictator" to others, but to himself Silas H. Strawn is a "jackass" for shouldering the city's financial burden.

The remark, "Folks call you Chicago's dictator," brought—

"Well, I'm not. I'm a jackass. I have no selfish interest in helping Chicago adjust its tax tangle."

Then, in calmer tone, "Somebody had to do it, though."

Mr. Strawn, in effect, has become financial dictator of Cook County's four large tax-pending bodies—the city government, the county government, the public schools and the sanitary district. The citizens' committee, of which he is chairman, will distribute the $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 that large tax payers will supply to relieve the public money shortage. Seventy-four million dollars will be needed to pay salaries due since last December and keep the bank balance alive until next July.

"The spending bodies will submit estimates of their needs, and we will meet those needs so far as possible," he explained.

"If the money is squandered? Well, we'll tighten up the next month."

The man who engineered the deal to pay off 43,000 policemen, firemen, teachers, garbage collectors and other municipal employes, has been a lawyer in Chicago 39 years. He is a native of Illinois and his forbears transferred from England to America early in the eighteenth century. He is 64, with the ruddy complexion of a golfer. Mr. Strawn once was president of the National Golf Association.

Mr. Strawn is a Republican, knows all the party leaders, but has never held office. He was a delegate to the Chinese tariff conference in 1925 and chairman of the international commission on extraterritorial jurisdiction in China the same year. He is a trustee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Chicago's notorious reputation Mr. Strawn attributes to:

"Our newspapers which have liberally commented upon crime. They do not do that in other cities," and, "even a casual investigation will show that the major portion of crime violence in Chicago in the last ten years has been due to prohibition."

The nearest the spokesman for the group which Mayor William Hale Thompson called "the reformers" and "meddlers" came to personal references was his "our officials have been recklessly extravagant."

41 TAKEN BY POLICE IN HANDBOOK FORAY

RADIO SET CONFISCATED

Swooping down on an O street cigar store and its adjoining rear garage near Seventh street northwest at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Second Precinct Capt. Ogden T. Davis and Policemen V. D. Hughes and Claude Evans arrested 40 men on disorderly conduct charges and Leo Bonner, 25 years old, on charges of operating a handbook establishment.

Characterizing the shop as an elaborate "radio bookie establishment," police reported the seizure of a large radio set and loud speaker, employed to tune in on results broadcast from various horse racing tracks at Oriental Park in Havana, Miami, New Orleans and Agua Caliente, pretentious boards for listing the results at each track, and other paraphernalia.

Police said the operations room was located in the garage, with a large battery of telephones in evidence, each manned by an efficient "bookie" taking bets from various parts of the city.

All taken in the raid were taken to the precinct station. Bonner being released on $2,000 bond and the greater number of the others being freed on $5 bond each.

Rover Not to Call Editor in Rum Quiz

Prosecutor Says O'Connell Testimony Was Based on Hearsay.

United States Attorney Leo A. Rover yesterday notified Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, that he would not summon Daniel E. O'Connell, editor of the Washington Times, before the grand jury to amplify statements made by him at a recent court trial that he had information that several policemen, including two captains, were engaged in the liquor traffic.

Maj. Pratt, in a letter to the United States attorney earlier in the week, insisted that the newspaperman be called before the grand jury for "the purpose of developing the identity of the members" of his department involved in the charges.

Mr. Rover, in his letter to Maj. Pratt, said he had reached the conclusion that the statement made by Mr. O'Connell at the trial of Policeman Robert F. Langdon, of the Third Precinct, was hearsay and that it would have no value as evidence before the grand jury.

Willett Is Acquitted In Fatal Auto Mishap

Calvin S. Willett, 22 years old, of 1105 East Capitol street, has been acquitted by a jury in District Supreme Court of a manslaughter charge. The man was charged with the offense last June 17, when his automobile struck and killed Edna Horsman, 5 years old, of 1347 Massachusetts avenue southwest, as she was crossing the street near her home.

The trial was held earlier in the week in Justice William Hitz's court. Willett was represented by Attorney Harry T. Whelan, while Assistant United States Attorney Irving Goldstein prosecuted for the Government.

Four in One Family Guilty in Rum Case

Boydton, Va., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Four members of one family, W. J. Smith, and Burton Smith, 24, and Ferrell Smith, 16, his sons, and R. L. Smith, his brother, all of Mecklenburg County, were convicted in the Circuit Court here today on charges of manufacturing ardent spirits, following the capture of a still, December 29, when two officers were shot. Each of the four was sentenced to serve a prison term of three years, after they pleaded guilty.

Their trial today followed that of Garland Smith, 22, another son of W. J. Smith, concluded yesterday when he was convicted of slaying Sheriff Ben Puryear, and Policeman Mack Tuck, shot from ambush as they, with other officers raided the still, resulting in the capture of the four Smiths sentenced today. Garland Smith was sentenced to die in the electric chair, June 2, and was removed last night to the State prison in Richmond.

DRY AGENT CLEARED IN SHOOTING OF GIRL

"No Bill" Report Is Filed by Iowa Grand Jury After Lengthy Hearing.

CHIEFS HERE STUDY CASE

Knoxville, Iowa, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The grand jury that investigated the shooting of Miss Nellie Church two weeks ago by Charles Hindley, Federal prohibition agent, today returned a "no bill" report.

The jury returned its report after calling several principals in the shooting for a second appearance, including Miss Church, who was wounded in the back of the head the night of February 8 when Hindley fired a revolver shot through the rear of an automobile in which she was riding. Miss Rita Huff, her companion, and Roy Moon, dry agent companion of Hindley, also were recalled. Hindley admitted firing a shot but said it was aimed at the ground.

All were said to have repeated to the jury their statements that the agent, returning to Des Moines from raids in Knoxville, fired at the machine in which the girls and two youths from Des Moines were riding, after it had scraped the fender of the agents' car. Attendants at the Federal Veterans' Hospital, where Miss Church is a nurse, testified regarding anxiety of the agents to aid in caring for her, and of treating the flesh wound she suffered.

There is still pending the Federal prohibition department's investigation into the case. Hindley and Moon have been suspended without pay. Investigators have reported to Washington, from where announcement of any action will come, according to Glenn Brunson, deputy administrator for Iowa.

GRUNDY GETS BLAMED

of course, he was against the bill and that unless it were materially changed he would vote against it. He added significantly that he expected ten of his colleagues to do likewise. This would be even more of a spectacle than the Kansas City Star story envisaged, a situation where the President had to get what he wanted from a rival party. If the final vote should record ten regular Republicans against a Republican bill, then there would be a pretty to play.

Mr. Grundy's attitude does reveal the mood of the Old Guard, however. For some time he and other senators, despairing of getting the rates they want, have counseled an open attempt to kill the bill. Others have insisted that there must be a bill to carry out the party's promise, regardless of what kind of a bill it is, and that furthermore the situation may brighten considerably when the bill goes to conference.

Resentment Against Grundy.

And it is this latter group that felt that Mr. Grundy should not have capitalized the Kansas City Star story. The fear is entertained that such stories as that will lessen the resistance of the House members to the Senate rates. Mr. Grundy, it is contended, should have considered the story as simply one for Middle Western consumption, which, incidentally the progressives really think, and not given it publicity here.

The President has made frequent gestures against the coalition, it was pointed out, and some of the senators think the regulars could have done better by continuing the impression that he considers the coalition a bunch of Bolsheviks instead of fair-haired boys, as the publication of the Star story revealed him as really thinking. The former impression would have tended more to hold the Middle Western members of the House in line.

Mr. Grundy, a quiet outspoken man and who raised $600,000 for the Republican presidential campaign, believes in direct action. The President is either openly for or against him. There can be no middle ground. It is not a matter of consideration with him where the President's hidden sympathies really lie. The point is that he did not intervene to get the rates Mr. Grundy wanted.

On the Rules of Traffic

By WILLIAM ULLMAN

To pass another car on the right is expressly forbidden by the District traffic code, which specifically stipulates that overtaking traffic must pass to the left.

There is a definite safety feature to this regulation. Passing on the right is looked upon as dangerous, because all traffic is required to keep as close as practicable to the right-hand curb, and the driver ahead may pull over, as he has a right to do, just as the car in the rear starts to pass.

Example: A driver is following a car that is well over toward the center of Sixteenth street. Instead of signaling that he intends to pass, so the driver ahead may pull to the right, the first motorist goes past on the right. Though there was ample room on that side, it was a violation of the law.

KETCHAM SPEAKS TO MASONIC CLUBS

Washington Is Lauded by House Member From Michigan.

STATE OFFICERS ATTEND

"The best citizen is he who knows best his country's past; who believes in its present; who can forcee its future and is ready for the next step."

Such was the theme of an address by Representative John C. Ketcham, of Michigan, as the principal speaker of the Washington memorial exercises held under the auspices of the advisory board of the National League of Masonic Clubs, in the Central High School auditorium, last night.

Representative Ketcham, after eulogizing the character of the first President, his dignity, accomplishments and attainments, interested the big audience with Masonic personalities regarding the Father of His Country.

Other speakers of the evening were Representative Thomas Hall, of North Dakota, James A. West, grand master of Masons of the District of Columbia, and Melvin D. Hensey, third vice president of the National League of Masonic Clubs.

Among the guests were Samuel Brady, Harold Chandler, Joseph Berham, Charles Staub, and Frank Day, all State vice presidents of the league. Capt. A. C. Oliver, jr., chaplain, U. S. A., pronounced the invocation, while the Tail Cedars of Lebanon Band, under the leadership of Charles Brill, and the Masonic Glee Club, rendered band and vocal music.

F. A. Birgfeld, president of the advisory board of the National League of Masonic Clubs, presided.

PERSHING ENVISIONS FINISHED CATHEDRAL

General Talks Before Model of Completed Edifice in Sound Reel.

RELIGION IS STRESSED

Hope that the north and south transepts of the Washington Cathedral will be completed by 1932, thus making possible a great religious commemoration at the cathedral during the national observance of the 200th birthday anniversary of George Washington, was expressed yesterday by Gen. John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Force during the World War.

Gen. Pershing's address was released to the public through a reel issued by the Paramount Sound News and it was the general's first appearance in sound films. The picture made its appearance on local screens at the Metropolitan and Ambassador Theaters yesterday.

The short speech on the Washington Cathedral was delivered by Gen. Pershing as he stood in front of a model of the completed edifice at the cathedral. He is chairman of the national committee in charge of construction of the national Episcopal shrine.

Of the cathedral Gen. Pershing said in part:

"It was undoubtedly an edifice such as this at the seat of our Government that George Washington conceived as the symbol of our faith in the principles of religion. I find deep satisfaction in helping to bring about the realization of our first President's conception of such a church.

"Every loyal citizen must realize that good government springs from a high sense of moral obligation, and that the degree of morality among the people is dependent upon the extent of their religious convictions. It will certainly promote that cause to create here in Washington a great cathedral that will stand as an enduring evidence of what the spirit of Christ means to our civilization.

"Washington Cathedral will represent the ideals of our democracy. People from every section of the country and from every walk of life will participate in its perfection. Thus the cross that crowns its tower will proclaim the message of Christianity to all America."

Elmer Olden, colored, 16 years old, of Cullinane court southwest, who, police say, is leader of a gang of colored youths "the Forty Thieves," which perpetrated a series of petty crimes in the Southwest section for several months, was arrested yesterday morning and returned to the National Training School, where he escaped Tuesday while serving a 19-month sentence.

Olden was captured by Fourth Precinct Policeman O. E. Allen, off duty at the time, who sighted the Negro at Sixth street and Maryland avenue southwest and pursued him in an automobile to a lumber yard at Eighth and D streets southwest, where Olden attempted to hide beneath a stack of boards.

Byrd Is Suggested For U.S. President

West Virginia Governor, in Speech at Richmond, Makes Proposal.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Former Gov. Harry F. Byrd, as a candidate for President, was proposed to the Virginia Senate today by former Gov. W. A. McCorkle, of West Virginia, who, with John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the Presidency in 1924, made short addresses before the Senate.

Without calling former Gov. Byrd's name, Gov. McCorkle said that "during the last few years you have had a governor who has put Virginia on the map in a material way. I hope that before long, Virginia will once more have the distinction of being the mother of a President." His reference was enthusiastically cheered.

In a short address, Mr. Davis referred to the Virginia Senate as "the mother of all parliaments" in the United States. He warned of "a present tendency against our Democratic government."

Virginia Engineer To Work in Greece

Daniel Wright to Assist 15-Year Program of Health Work.

Winchester, Va., Feb. 21.—Daniel E. Wright, Winchester engineer, for many years identified with the Panama Canal and other engineering projects, has been appointed member of a special staff of the international health division of the Rockefeller Foundation and assigned to Greece, it was announced here today. He will leave New York next month for Italy to make an inspection of work there before leaving for his station. Members of his family will join him in June.

Under the leadership of Premier Venizelos, Greece has inaugurated a fifteen-year program of modern municipal improvement, including water, sewers, pavements, country highways and a drainage system for the control of malaria.

Premier Venizelos visited the Isthmus of Panama in 1922, was profoundly impressed with the canal organization, and especially the work of American engineers. He expressed a desire to have an American engineer to undertake the work he had in mind for Greece. It is understood the Rockefeller Foundation offered the position to Mr. Wright, whose work attracted the attention of the Greek leader.

Four More Pupils Ousted for Hazing

Students at North Carolina State Expelled After Youth Is Hurt.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Four more North Carolina State College students were dismissed this afternoon by the student council for participation in recent hazing at the school, Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of the college, announced. Three students were expelled Monday.

The students expelled this afternoon are: J. A. Ramsay, of Salisbury, N. C.; J. M. Leroy, jr., of Elizabeth City, N. C.; H. W. Clarke, of Eufola, N. C., and Jerry Moore, of Harmony, N. C.

All four were in the party which hazed Charles Kellenberger, jr., of Greensboro, Dr. Brooks said. During the struggle, as the hazers cut Kellenberger's hair, he was hurt, suffering a slight skull fracture, it was said. The hazing came to light when the youth went to his home in Greensboro and was forced to be under care of physicians for several days.

Gas Light Merger Legislation Drawn

Expansion of Capital Structure Also Is Included in Plans Under Way.

Preparation of legislation which would permit the merger of the Washington and Georgetown Gas Light Companies and an expansion of the capital structure of the new organization has been begun.

The legislation is to be one of the first steps by the new owners of the gas companies to put into effect their announced plans for an expanded gas service and a change in basic rates to foster the development of business. The matter is believed to have been outlined to officials of the Public Utilities Commission recently to ascertain the commission's views on various points.

Question of merging of the two companies has been up for discussion, off and on, for several years and once was considered by Congress, but it fell through then because of the expressed fear of some members of the House committee that removal of the charter restrictions on the capital structure of the companies might be made the occasion for an inflation not for the benefit of the public. The new owners of the gas companies are anxious to avoid such an impression becoming prevalent now.

Mrs. Saxton Rites To Be Held Today

Wife of Army Officer Will Be Buried Today in Arlington.

Mrs. Mary W. G. Saxton, 93 years old, wife of Maj. S. Willard Saxton, who died Thursday, will be buried today. She had been ill a week. Maj. Saxton, who has passed his 100th birthday, yesterday had not been informed of the death of his wife, because the family feared the shock would injure his health. They recently celebrated the 69th anniversary of their wedding.

Mrs. Saxton was a native of Amesbury, Mass. She had resided in this city since the Civil War. In addition to her husband she is survived by a son, E. H. Saxton, of Boston; three daughters, Mrs. R. E. McDuffie, of this city; Mrs. H. L. Clapp, of Chicago, and Mrs. James E. Miller, of New York; and five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held today at 10:30 o'clock in the funeral home of S. H. Hines Co. Temporary interment will be held in Arlington Cemetery.

Daily O'Currences

By JOHN DALY

LUELLA was discouraged.

"Oh, dear," she sighed, "I never seem to have time for anything any more."

"Time? What about all these time-savers we have—the telephone, the automobile, this, that, and the other thing?"

"That's just the trouble. They waste so much time!"

"Yeah?"

The phone rang.

"You answer it," she pleaded. "If I go, somebody'll get me in a long-drawn-out conversation——"

So I went.

"The wrong number."

"See how it wastes your time?"

"Well, let's have it taken out. We don't need a telephone."

"Oh, yes we do," she snapped. "Look at all the time it saves——"

"And look at all the time it wastes."

"I've got to do some shopping," she notified me, "so get out the car——"

* * * *

HERE was more sad news.

"Well, fix it. Send for somebody to fix it. I've got-ta——"

"Can't. There's no spare tire."

"No spare? Then we'll have to buy a new one."

"Whattayuh gon-na use for money?"

Luella stomped her foot.

"What did we get the car for, in the first place?"

"To save time."

"A lot of time it saves, there in the garage. It's the biggest time waster we've got.

"Well," I suggested, "let's sell it."

"We need a car," she snapped, "to save time."

We tried to get the repair shop. Jangled the receiver up and down up and down, and no answer.

"The phone's out of order!"

* * * *

SHE started putting on her coat and hat.

"Where are you going?"

"Over next door, to borrow their phone—and report this one out of order.

"That'll save time, at that," I offered.

"Save time? Lose time, you mean. Say, how are we ever going to get down town with all this trouble?"

"I don't know, maybe the street cars, or the buses, or perhaps we can walk."

"We'll lose so much time——"

"Listen, Luella, if you really want to save some time, the best thing to do is stay home——"

"I think you're right," she agreed. "We'll not only save time, but money, too."

So we remained indoors, nursing our wounds.

CHAIN-STORE LEVY VOTED IN VIRGINIA

SEAFOOD BILLS PASSED

Special to The Washington Post.

Richmond, Feb. 21.—With but little discussion the House of Delegates today passed the Hall chain-store tax bill, which would add $50 to the tax of each store in a chain; and, then, after an hour of debate, passed all of Gov. Pollard's seafood program, which would create a commission with broad powers as to the making of rules and regulations for the industry.

The chain-store tax bill vote was 54 to 10, most of the 10 doubting, they said, the constitutionality of the bill, while even with Floor Leader Ashton Dovell, of Williamsburg leading the fight against them the highest vote against any of the seafood bills was 9.

The Senate referred to committee the Reid resolution, adopted by the House, which would provide a study of the rates charged for workmen's compensation insurance in Virginia with an eye to providing for State insurance.

The House passed, with but four adverse votes, the Witten bill that, at a cost of $60,000, provides 22 additional traffic inspectors, the money to come from the highway maintenance fund.

John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President in 1924, and former Gov. W. A. McCorkle of West Virginia, in Richmond attending a meeting of the board of governors of Washington and Lee University, addressed both branches of the Assembly during the day, Gov. McCorkle, without mentioning a name, suggesting that former Gov. Byrd would make a good President.

"Virginia," he said, "has just had a governor that has put her on top in a material way, and I hope that before long Virginia again may become the mother of a President."

Delegate Wilbur C. Hall, sponsor of a free textbook bill, said that on Monday he would introduce a resolution asking the governor to include an appropriation for the purpose in the 1932 budget, which, if accepted, will mean that the bill this year will not be pressed.

Both houses adjourned, after much calendar work this afternoon, to meet again Monday. The legislators will go to Alexandria tomorrow, where, with Gov. Pollard and President Hoover, they will participate in the celebration of Washington's Birthday.

CAR CRASHES TAKING BOY, 5, TO HOSPITAL

Three Are Badly Injured in Second Accident; Hope Dim for Lad.

TWO DRIVERS ARRESTED

A 5-year-old boy and two men were seriously injured yesterday afternoon when the lad was being rushed from one accident, in which he was knocked down by an automobile, to Casualty Hospital. The second accident occurred when the automobile, in which the injured youngster was being taken to the hospital by the two men who had picked him up, crashed into a taxicab.

The injured boy is Remo Mattera, of 519 Fourteenth street northeast. He is not expected to live. Both his thighs are fractured, he has concussion of the brain, a possible fracture of the skull, severe face lacerations and possible internal injuries.

The two men who were injured are: Leroy Burdette, 25 years old, of 1235 C street northeast and William T. Needeham, 22 years old, of 537 Tennessee avenue northeast. Burdette was driving the car, according to Ninth Precinct police when it crashed into the taxicab at Twelfth and D streets northeast.

Burdette has a possible fracture of the skull, possible concussion of the brain, a possible broken shoulder and lacerations of the forehead. Needham has a possible fracture of the skull, possible concussion of the brain and lacerations of the face. All the injured were treated at Casualty Hospital.

The first accident occurred when the 5-year-old boy was struck by an automobile while playing on Tennessee avenue near Fifth street northeast. The driver of the car, police say, was James D. Campbell, colored, of Thirteenth street near B street southeast.

Doctors were unable to determine what injuries the lad received in the first accident. The taxicab was operated by Arthur R. Campbell, of F street near Fourteenth street northeast. Both drivers were arrested and held at the Ninth Precinct station pending the outcome of the injuries of the three persons.

TOO BIG A PRICE.

Foreign influences are working to involve the United States in a political pact for the ostensible purpose of preventing war. The approach is subtly made, and plausible arguments are employed. It is stated that the United States would not be drawn into any obligations by merely agreeing to confer with other nations whenever a controversy threatens to disturb world peace. Much stress is laid upon the obligation already assumed by every government that has accepted the Kellogg pact. Since the nations have already agreed to confine themselves to pacific means of settling all disputes, why should they not confer together to prevent an outbreak?

This seemingly innocuous suggestion conceals a sordid and selfish plan to draw the United States into an alliance with great powers whose purposes and interests are not only distinct from those of the United States, but antagonistic.

The immediate object of this scheme is to increase foreign naval forces. It is now apparent that the London conference will not bring about a reduction in navies, although that was the hope and expectation of the United States Government when it agreed to participate in a conference. There is to be an increase of warship building, instead of a decrease. Now, in order to induce France to cut down an enormous naval program, including a submarine tonnage that would more than offset Great Britain's increased cruiser program, it is proposed that the United States shall join other nations in conference for the purpose of preventing war.

Is the United States willing to pay the price demanded for an agreement at London? France is practically saying to the United States: "Be my ally, and stand by me in case I am threatened, and I will curtail my navy to the point where Great Britain will not be afraid of me and therefore will be willing to match navies with you." Great Britain concurs in this French presentation of the case, adding: "Of course, you can't expect me to agree to parity with you in cruisers, if France builds up a great submarine force. But if you will agree to help us whenever we are threatened with war, France can afford to cut down, and so can we." Japan has not yet spoken, but there is little doubt that Japan would moderate its demands for more cruisers if the United States would agree to assist in maintaining the status quo in China and thereby insure Japanese supremacy in the Far East.

So the powers are to demand that the United States shall pay a price for naval limitation. The price is America's promise to take part in efforts to snuff out incipient wars anywhere in the world; in other words, to assist the great powers to hold what they have acquired or seized.

What a spectacle would be presented if the United States should join in a conference having for its object the prevention of a revolutionary war in Egypt, India, China, Syria, Mesopotamia, Palestine, Spain, or elsewhere! If the conference should fail to prevent the war, the next step would be a demand that the United States join in a war to put down war. How could the United States reject this demand? It would have gone too far to retreat with honor. Its "moral obligations" would be thrust in its face. Having been a partner with others in the preliminary stages, it would be perforce a partner to the end of the chapter of blood and ruin.

Naval limitation is desirable, but not at the price of America's entanglement in foreign intrigues and wars. This Nation can not be a guarantor of the territorial integrity of powers that rule over peoples struggling for independence. The proposal now cautiously broached in London is essentially the same as Article X of the covenant of the League of Nations, which was overwhelmingly rejected by American people.

PROTECTING AMERICAN SHIPPING.

Representative White, chairman of the House merchant marine committee, calls attention to the devices utilized by foreign ship operators, particularly the British, to combat the American merchant marine, and proposes three measures intended to remedy the situation. One measure, made necessary by the fact that a customs discount of 10 per cent is allowed under the Canadian customs act if goods for Canadian consumption enter Canada through a Canadian port, would impose a special tax of 10 per cent on goods which enter the United States through Canada. So long as a discrimination exists it would seem to be wise to provide an antidote. Goods for Canadian consumption are without exception carried in vessels entering Canadian ports, and the 10 per cent special tax proposed by Mr. White upon goods for American consumption entering through Canadian ports would result in a demand for American bottoms for cargoes of this nature.

Mr. White also would amend the revenue act to make taxable the incomes of aliens derived from the operation of foreign ships in American indirect trade as well as alien incomes derived from transporting passengers on cruises originating in the United States. If such a tax could be collected it should be imposed. Foreign ships operating in American indirect trade and those transporting passengers on cruises originating in the United States rob American vessels of traffic they otherwise would command. Since such vessels are provisioned, repaired, equipped, &c., abroad, and their source of revenue is of American origin, it seems fair that their owners should be held subject to American taxation if, practicably, this could be done.

Mr. White also would have the merchant marine act amended so as to bring within the definition of a "fighting ship" the Cunard vessels that are now plying, in direct competition with long-established American lines, in the Cuban trade. The Cunarders operate only in winter, at the height of the season. They capture the cream of the trade, leaving to American flag ships the obligation of maintaining the necessary lean-month connections.

The merchant marine act of 1920 amended the shipping act of 1916 to read as follows: "No common carrier by water shall directly or indirectly, in respect to the transportation by water of passengers or property between a port of a State, Territory, district or possession of the United States and any other such port or a port of a foreign country, use a fighting ship. The term 'fighting ship' in this act means a vessel used in a particular trade for the purpose of excluding, preventing or reducing competition by driving another carrier out of said trade." The act, as amended, provides that the Shipping Board may upon its own initiative or upon complaint give notice to those not citizens of the United States that they are violating this provision, and after hearings, if the charge is sustained, the foreign vessels may be excluded from American ports.

Apparently the Shipping Board has ample authority to proceed against the Cunard Line if, as alleged, its vessels in the Cuban trade are actually fighting ships. Since the competition in this service threatens seriously to affect certain American lines that have been established for many years, why does not the board enforce the fighting ship provision of the act of 1920?

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Washington's birthday today commands more than usual attention because plans are already under way for a nation-wide celebration in 1932 of the 200th anniversary of his birth. Observance of that date will be the greatest tribute the United States has ever paid to one of its citizens. Each year adds to the respect and honor that attach to the name of George Washington.

The universal desire to render homage to America's immortal is reflected in the numerous memorials erected to his memory. The House recently passed a bill to assist in the restoration and maintenance of his birthplace at Wakefield. Two years ago Congress authorized a memorial boulevard from the National Capital to his estate at Mount Vernon. Legislation for a memorial parkway from Mount Vernon to Great Falls on both sides of the Potomac River is now pending. Projects for construction of magnificent structures in memory of the first President are in the process of formation. Many other cities where Washington lived and carried on his work have plans of their own for commemorating his 200th anniversary.

Two years is not too long a time in which to prepare for the national celebration. Appointment of the directors for the bicentennial commission gives hope that the program will soon be fully outlined.

FRANCE'S NEW PREMIER.

Camille Chautemps, a young radical Socialist, who not long ago reached the post of leadership of his bloc in the French Chamber, has reached the premiership as a result of the recent defeat of Premier Tardieu. But the vote that overturned the Tardieu cabinet was made up of discordant elements that do not represent the real sentiment of the majority, and Chautemps' lease of power is destined to be brief. He has managed to form a cabinet, but it is composed almost entirely of radicals. Next Tuesday it will face the test of a vote of confidence.

The questions that have temporarily placed Tardieu in the background have nothing to do with the naval conference. On its naval program France is united, whatever the changes in the government may be. As the Chamber reviews the situation and gives due weight to the problems before it, the probability of Tardieu's return to power will be very strong. He has the confidence of a greater proportion of the Chamber than Chautemps can hope for, and draws strength from more of the blocs. Tardieu's judicious cabinet selections, his success in the negotiations at The Hague, and his bold attitude in the naval conference combined to win support from all sides of the Chamber. It is too much to expect that Chautemps, with limited parliamentary experience and restricted support, can stand very long in Tardieu's path. Any weakness on the part of Chautemps in connection with the London negotiations would inevitably hasten the return of Tardieu. France needs its strongest man at this juncture, when the status of the nation among world powers is being measured, and when French national and colonial defenses are the subject of bargaining.

RETIREMENT LEGISLATION.

Chairman Lehlbach has acted generously and wisely in withdrawing his new bill on retirement for Federal employes. It has been evident since the measure was first made public that some groups of employes feared that the new bill might not meet with the approval of both houses of Congress, and thus leave the Federal employes holding the bag.

The Senate passed the Dale bill, providing for maximum annuities of $1,200 and reducing the retirement age of each group by two years. Favorable action on this measure by the House civil service committee is now assured; and since the bill was previously passed by the House no organized opposition is expected. The most serious menace the measure now faces is an attempt by some groups of Federal employes to have it amended in conformity with their own views.

The Dale bill, also known as the Dale-Lehlbach bill, is an emergency measure. It can hardly be perfected by amendments. If all the amendments sponsored by different groups were incorporated, it would no doubt meet the same objections as the Lehlbach bill. Let Congress enact the Dale bill as it was passed by the Senate and send it to the President. When this has been done Mr. Lehlbach will again introduce his more liberal bill, and it can be considered on its merits. If it does not prove satisfactory to all groups, there will be ample time to propose improvements. The retirement situation should be studied by all groups interested, so that when a final plan is submitted to Congress it will be satisfactory and fair to every one.

COST OF UNPREPAREDNESS

From the National Republic.

The statement that the United States is spending 72 per cent of the national budget for costs growing out of wars, past, present and future, is again employed to prove that Uncle Sam is going wild on preparedness. The United States is spending a smaller percentage of its national income on our Army, Navy and national defenses than it was immediately prior to any of our wars, all of which were more prolonged and made more costly in life and money than if we had been more adequately prepared. Moreover, it must be remembered that the cost of national defense falls almost entirely on the National Government, while the States and smaller political divisions of the country are spending much more than the Federal Government, the largest single item being for education, the cost of which does not fall on the Nation.

The principal and interest on our national debt is a huge item, and pacifists charge all this up to war obligations. How much of the big debt we accumulated during the World War was due to the fact that we had to wastefully improvise national defense, a merchant marine and many other causes of outlay? In other words, how much is due to the fact that we drifted into war unprepared would be hard to say definitely, but it probably accounts for half the cost of the war to us. The burden is much heavier than it otherwise would be because at the end of the war we asked no indemnities and received no territorial acquisitions, and because we wiped off half the debt due us from foreign powers. But would the pacifist argue that in this we contributed to the war rather than the peace spirit?

Much of the burden is due to the fact that instead of conscripting soldiers and compelling them to work for nothing or next to nothing, our Government pays the soldiers and sailors and makes provision for them and their families afterward. One of the big items in our national budget is care of the veterans. Is this heavy cost we voluntarily place upon ourselves contributory to war, or does it make it less likely that our country will be led again into the heavy cost of war? Is it a peace measure or a war measure? The same fallacy appears in the argument that we spend more on our Army and Navy than any other country in the world. This is only because we feed, clothe, house and pay our soldiers and sailors on a much higher scale than any other country. The figures as to the actual size of our Army and Navy speak for themselves. We have, measured in the number of men enrolled, the smallest army in the world in proportion to our population and wealth.

Nor is the money spent on our Army and Navy wasted. Those familiar with Army training know that the discipline, regular habits and educational activities of the Army are a real contribution to the young men who take this training. Both Army and Navy provide training in trades; the Navy is, indeed, a vast manual training school for scores of thousands of youths who could not afford to attend an ordinary institution providing such training. In times of unemployment like the present the pressure of competition from a quarter of a million men is removed from industrial life, and they are getting experience which will make them useful citizens. They are a menace to no man and no nation which does not have designs on the safety of Americans. Service in the National Guard is a service contributing to personal efficiency and good citizenship.

Inability to defend our Nation in case of attack might cost this country a hundred times more than the cost of reasonable national preparedness.

In his Farewell Address, George Washington, who is, of course, a back number to our visionary crystal gazers, admonished his countrymen and his posterity to maintain the Nation "in a reasonable posture of defense." It was good advice in his day, and it is just as good advice now.

When the cost of a thing is considered, the question of whether it would not cost more not to have it is worthy of thought, and in no case is this more necessary than in the matter of national defense, because when the need comes it can not be suddenly conjured into existence.

It Can't Be Done.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE MISER.

They thought him poor until after he died,
And then when they looked around,
The money he'd hid they found.

Dollars of silver, and paper and gold,
Crumpled and tarnished brown,
For them he had suffered the winter's cold
And suffered the heat of town.

Somebody counted them one and all
And thought it was strange that he Could hoard so much in a cottage small
And could grow so rich to be.

But another man said: "If you never give,
And you never care to spend;
If hungry and lonely you choose to live,
You may be rich at the end.

"But think of the countless lies he told,
To the poor folks at his door,
Who begged for bread, just to keep that gold
In the tin box under the floor."

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Flapper Daughter.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

My dear Louise: Some days ago you enjoyed a quarrel with a boy friend.

I didn't ask for details, for it hasn't been many years since I enjoyed quarrels of the same kind and I know how they work.

You begin by pretending to be offended by some innocent remark. That's fun. Then you give an aggrieved or resentful answer and the other fellow pretends to take it seriously. He answers back in the same tone and the battle is on.

By pretending to feel an emotion we can trick ourselves and develop an emotion that is genuine—as a little girl pretending to be heart-broken by her dolly's death ends in a flood of genuine tears—and the quarrel that begins in pretense quickly engenders real temper.

With each exchange of frank opinions you become a little bolder, each of you adding venom as he feels the sting of unpleasant truth, and within an hour you are ready to part forever.

There follows a week of separation—of self-pity and delicious heart ache and woe—and then you have forgotten how the quarrel started and are ready for the pleasant business of "making up."

Such quarrels are a product of boredom.

Some friend who once delighted you has ceased to be sufficiently entertaining and you start a quarrel to break the monotony.

It is like whipping a tired horse up a hill—like taking a drink of whisky to spur a waning appetite. Placid friendship no longer satisfies you and you must work up some artificial emotion to keep it from petering out entirely.

That is the explanation of make-believe quarrels, and that is the reason they are dangerous.

The washed sow goes back to her wallow, you know; and because we are similar creatures of habit, we go back to the ways that once afforded us pleasure or comfort.

If you develop the habit of using fake quarrels as a means of stimulating emotion and adding zest to unsatisfying friendships you will resort to the same remedy in years to come and thus make yourself a nuisance to husband and neighbors who are less romantic.

You know women here in town who are forever quarreling with their friends and their families—forever nursing hurt feelings and enjoying a self-made martyrdom.

Well, they are simply play acting to escape boredom. And they keep themselves and everybody else miserable as a result of it.

Better not get the habit, honey. People like that aren't quite sane. They pretend so much they can't tell what is genuine, and they wallow in woe when they could be happy just by being sensible.

Love, DAD.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

PADLOCKING THE BIG HOTELS.

Before choosing a hotel in which to stop in a big city you'd better inquire in advance and see if it's unlocked.

* * * *

Prohibition enforcement chiefs are now proceeding against the big hotels and in New York the padlocking of several of the largest hostelries is threatened as a means of stopping the liquor traffic through bell-hops and porters.

* * * *

This is a lot like stopping a leak in the kitchen sink by removing all the plumbing in the house.

* * * *

The concern of the hotel men is, however, nothing as compared to the nervousness of the tourists. No guest wants to wake up in the morning to find he can't get out of the hotel because it has been padlocked for two years.

* * * *

A "Do Not Disturb" sign on your door may keep you in a hotel room for the period of a Federal court order.

* * * *

If the padlocking drive is carried through, a guest may phone for breakfast in his room and get an answer from a United States marshal informing him that he can't cook or run an elevator but will take the matter up with Washington and see if he can get him a soft boiled egg and a cup of coffee by 1932.

* * * *

You may phone down to the desk to ask what time it is and get a reply from a cop saying, "I don't know; I'm a stranger here myself."

* * * *

You may even call down for a bellhop and get a locksmith.

* * * *

Nervous ladies are already looking under hotel beds to see if there is a Coast Guardsman, a prohibition agent or a crusading bishop there. It's all highly unnerving.

"How long do you expect to be with us?" asks the hotel clerk on Manhattan Island these days.

* * * *

The enforcement chief also threatens to arrest hotel and restaurant and night club proprietors who allow ginger ale or other soft drinks to be served when they are to be used in making highballs. This is like holding a hotel management responsible for nightmare in Room 456 because the hotel furnished the pillows and sheets.

* * * *

The only solution would seem to be a warning on each ginger ale bottle sold: "Not to be opened till Christmas."

LONDON PARLEY.

Jack Spratt U-boats would scrap,
His wife loved submarines
And so they argue back and forth
For press and magazines.

When Italy's spokesman speaks at the naval limitations conference it presumably gives the French and Italian delegates that Grandi and glorious feeling.

A proposal to fight the next naval war with painted ships upon a painted ocean may some day go through, but some pacifist will immediately pop up and move to outlaw paint.

France asserts vehemently that submarines are an absolute necessity to her in time of war. They certainly are. If it hadn't been for the German undersea boats in the last one an allied victory would have been almost impossible.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Publicity Bureaus Silent When the Public Wants Action.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Why doesn't the battle begin between Charlie Michelson and Jim West? Why all this silence in the publicity bureaus of the Democratic and Republican committees? What the public wants is action. Let each side show the other up, and be quick about it. CORRESPONDENT.

Does Not Believe President Hoover Thinks of Antagonizing the East.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The Kansas City Star article published in The Post today tries to show that President Hoover is willing to antagonize the industrial East for the sake of making himself solid with the agricultural West. I don't believe he is guilty of such a thought. The sure way for a Republican President to commit political suicide is to alienate the East. OLD REPUBLICAN.

House Hearings Against Prohibition Are Declared to Be a Waste of Time and Money.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The most dreary, fruitless and useless waste of time and money is the hearing against prohibition by the House judiciary committee. Individuals are telling that the country wants liquor again. I could produce a cloud of witnesses to testify that the country wants communism, free love, abolition of the Army and Navy, an alliance with England or any other idiotic proposition. You can get somebody in the United States to advocate any fool thing.

The House committee should stop these hearings and this waste of money. Nothing is learned that is worth while. The country is dry and intends to remain dry. Let the wets go off and organize a party if they dare. E PLURIBUS UNUM.

Communist Agitation Among School Children Should Not Be Ignored.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The communistic demonstration which was thwarted by the police Wednesday evening at Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue makes it evident that this organization is attempting to gain in strength through the enlistment of American school children. It is something that should not be passed over lightly, as it might result in a demonstration that will prove fatal to some one.

School children can easily be taught and shown that the teachings of the communistic organizations are utterly false. A disease nipped in the bud very seldom proves harmful, but a disease which gains headway might prove fatal to some people. Squelch this growth while it is a mere bud. ALFRED SANDBOY.

Limitation of Manufacture of Narcotic Drugs More Effective Than Plan to Abolish Poppy Growing.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: An editorial in your issue of February 9 is a happy corrective to the view recently reiterated in four widely divergent quarters, that a sine qua non to the solution of the narcotics problem of this country (and of the whole Western civilization) consists in an appropriate reduction of the poppy crops.

In referring to the recent efforts of the League of Nations toward bringing about an international agreement "for the limitation of the total (world) quantity of narcotic drugs that may be manufactured annually" you take the view that such limitation is "quite feasible." One feels that you might have appropriately added that it would also be markedly expeditious in contrast to the many years that would obviously be required to accomplish a reduction in the poppy crops sufficient to serve the same purpose.

Let us hope that the conference to be held in Geneva next fall for the specific purpose of restricting the world manufacture of derivative drugs to the needs of medicine only will be successful. For where, then, as you point out, would the illicit traffic get its supplies of morphine, heroin, &c.?

If at the present stage of the fight our Government should withhold its cooperation from a conference held solely for this humanitarian purpose, whether on the grounds that the invitations to the conference will emanate from the League of Nations or on any other grounds, it would be regrettable. C. K. CRANE.

Los Angeles, February 19.

What Is America's Favorite Dish?—Don't All Speak at Once.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: If the American Nature Association, as a result of its favorite flower poll, succeeds in having Congress declare the wild rose the national flower, it will be in order to take a favorite food poll for the selection of a national edible. The gustatory likings of the country may be as well worth consideration as its taste in the matter of anthems and flowers, and it is reasonable to think that some degree of patriotic sentiment would be developed in this contest between time-honored and popular indigenous dishes.

Among likely candidates called to mind as I write are: Boston baked beans, roast possum, roast turkey, pumpkin pie, hog and hominy, ham and eggs, New England boiled dinner, hog jowl and greens, Indian pudding, spoon bread, beaten biscuits, terrapin, Maryland; fried chicken, Maryland; Smithfield ham, Virginia fried chicken and hoe cake, channel cat and yams, Kentucky blackeyed beans and a shot of bourbon, golden bantam corn, buckwheat cakes and maple sirup, mince pie, pigs knuckles and sauerkraut, and that grand old standby, corn beef and cabbage.

Of sea foods the steamed oyster and the New England quahog would make a strong sectional bid, and my vote would be for that famous native game fish, the black bass, with President Hoover and former President Coolidge to give it a flying start. GUSTATOR.

NAVY POLICY UNCHANGED

Paris, Feb. 21 (A.P.). — Camille Chautemps, Radical-Socialist party leader, tonight succeeded in forming a new government, based on the left groups in the Chamber of Deputies, to replace the resigned Tardieu ministry.

After calling on President Doumergue and acquainting him with the new cabinet list, M. Chautemps took charge of the affairs of France. He was congratulated by the president on the rapidity with which he had constituted his ministry.

The new government will make its debut in the chamber at 3 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. M. Chautemps will read the ministerial declaration and ask for a vote of confidence. He is apparently counting on getting it, for it was announced today that the French delegation to the London naval conference would be appointed by the council of ministers on Tuesday evening and leave for London on Wednesday.

Navy Delegates Forecast.

If Parliament upholds M. Chautemps, who will for the first time go under fire as premier, Foreign Minister Briand, Minister of Marine Sarraut, Minister of the Merchant Marine Danielou and Minister of the Colonies Lamoureux almost certainly will be members of the delegation.

For the first time since the Herriot cabinet was swept into power on May 11, 1924, France has a genuine government of the left groups. There are a few moderate elements represented in it, but the Nationalists and Rightists are wholly absent.

There was no misunderstanding in Paris about which way the government would guide the ship of state. It will go to the left, and it will meet, among others, the opposition of former Premier Tardieu and his followers, who refused to support it by a vote of 26 to 3.

Naval Policy to Be Same.

One thing that appeared to be certain about it was that its policy at the London Naval Conference would not materially differ from that of its predecessor. As a politician and negotiator, Foreign Minister Briand is more suave than former Premier Tardieu, but his principles will probably be the same.

The complete cabinet follows: Premier and minister of interior, Camille Chautemps; foreign affairs, Aristide Briand; justice, Jules Steeg; marine, Albert Sarraut; war, Rene Besnard; labor, Louis Loucheur; finances, Charles Dumont or M. Man Gets 240-Day Term For Assault in Theater

William Johnson, colored, said to be an operator of the Dunbar Theater, colored movie theater at 1901 Seventh street northwest, was found guilty of assault yesterday in Police Court and was sentenced by Judge John P. McMahon to serve 240 days in jail. A motion for a new trial was noted.

Johnson, according to the testimony of witnesses, stabbed Harry Wells, colored, four times several days ago during a scuffle in the lobby of the theater. The altercation is said to have developed over a woman known only as "Rose" to the court, who is said to play the synchronized accompaniment to the pictures.

Two Are Held in $2,000 On Forgery Charges

Raymond Joseph and Cecil Greer pleaded guilty in Police Court yesterday before Judge John P. McMahon to charges of forgery and were ordered held for the grand jury under $2,000 bonds.

Testimony was to the effect that the men worked for a typewriter sales company and had forged names of soldiers to contracts for typewriting and had then sold the typewriters to other persons for cash, at reduced prices. Two of the four machines, said to have been lost by the company, in that manner were recovered, it was stated.

PEER'S DEATH LEAP BLAMED ON CURSE

Westbury. Within a year after the tomb was opened Lord Carnarvon died in Cairo of a poisonous mosquito bite.

Lord Carnarvon's half-brother, Col. Aubrey Herbert, died several months later. He also had entered the tomb.

Sir Archibald Douglas-Reid, a famous radiologist who had agreed to make an X-ray examination of the dead pharaoh, died in 1924.

A little later an eminent Canadian, Prof. Lafleur, of McGill University, died at Luxor while on a visit to the tomb.

H. G. Evelyn-White, scholar and Egyptologist, committed suicide near the end of the same year. He left a letter containing the words:

"I knew there was a curse on me."

In 1926 two sudden deaths connected with the tomb occurred. They were those of M. Benedite, a French archeologist, and M. Pasanova. Both had taken part in excavations in the Valley of the Kings.

The Listening Post

By CARLISLE BARGERON

DEAR ALECK: We are glad you brought that matter up. You ask us if a young man should accept automobile rides with a girl that he does not know.

Well, Aleck, we'll just say that if you could see the tragic story that is written in the records of the Man's Bureau of the Police Department you would have no doubt on this question. It is a story of broken bones, weary feet, weary souls and weary minds. It is a story, Aleck, of countless boys walking home.

Oh, if we could get our message across, our warning to the young boys growing up, of the dangers of accepting rides from strange girls, of permitting promiscuous petting.

* * * *

OF course, Aleck, times have changed. If you are really in love with a girl and if you are convinced she loves you, there would seem to be no serious harm nowadays in permitting her to kiss you, or to permit of a little dignified petting.

But, Aleck, how is one to be sure? How is one to be certain that he is not mistaking the warmth of the face, the thrill of racing warm blood, to be nothing but a passing fancy; a fancy that is but a draught of spring to be blown away by the wintry winds which we know are yet to come, leaving one who has erred chilled of body and of mind?

* * * *

ALECK, a body has got to watch his step, that is all there is to it.

Character is molded in youth, and if a boy gets in the habit of letting girls kiss him, he will find it difficult to shake it off as he grows older. It is a habit-forming thing, Aleck, something that wraps its tentacles about you as might an octopus. Only the older heads can tell you the tragedy of becoming an addict.

* * * *

OF course, we know you will think this column is too prudish.

Our advice to other youngsters has gone unheeded but to the unheeders' regret.

You will say, just as others have said, that other boys permit petting; that there is petting all around him; that if a boy does not permit it, in fact, that he will not get any dates.

But this is a serious and unwarranted indictment of the girls, Aleck, our girls of today and our wives of tomorrow. You can't tell us that there are not thousands of girls who appreciate serious-minded boys, who want boys who can make conversation and talk about the bigger and better things of life, who want to go with boys who do not permit petting. Look around in your neighborhood, Aleck. They are there somewhere.

Anyway, carelessness does no one any good. Now, you take Senator Heflin. For years he went steadily with the Democratic party, then his fickled heart went out to Hooverocracy. Now he is running around from one to another, and no one seems to want to go with him.

Abraham Lincoln Revealed As Citizen of San Marino

Representative Ackerman Shows Hoover Letter Written by Civil War President Thanking Small Republic for Giving Him Right to Ballot.

(Associated Press.)

Abraham Lincoln was a citizen of the Republic of San Marino.

A letter written by President Lincoln, on May 7, 1861, thanking the regent captains of the Republic of San Marino for voting him citizenship, was made public at the White House yesterday by Representative Ackerman, of New Jersey, after he had presented photostatic copies of it to President Hoover.

San Marino is a small republic in the Italian peninsula.

The letter, after thanking the regent captains for honoring him, said that the Republic of San Marino, by its experience had demonstrated "the truth, so full of encouragement to the friends of humanity, that government founded on republican principles is capable of being so administered as to be secure and enduring.

"You have kindly adverted to the trial through which this republic is now passing," it added. "It is one of deep import. It involves the question whether a representative republic, extended and aggrandized so much as to be safe against foreign enemies can save itself from the dangers of domestic faction. I have faith in a good result."

Mr. Ackerman found the letter when he was visiting San Marino recently in search of rare stamps.

Minseito Faction Scores Big Gains

Administration Party Gets 62 Seats in Lower House of Diet.

Tokyo, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Premier Hamaguchi's government, seeking parliamentary support through a general election, today made substantial gains on the basis of early returns from yesterday's election. Most of these reports, however, were from districts favorable to the premier's continuance in office.

The Minseito party, supporting Hamaguchi's administration, had secured 62 seats in the lower house of the Diet late tonight, compared with 34 candidates elected by the Seiyukai party, chief opposition to the government. Proletarian, or labor groups gained seats for three candidates and five were obtained by other groups.

Supported by only the 173 members of the Minseito party, and unable to make headway for its measures against the opposition of the Seiyukai party, 237 of whose members sat in the lower house of the Diet, the Hamaguchi government January 21 declared the Diet dissolved and ordered a general election held.

Fathers and Sons Guests at Banquet

Program of Entertainment Follows Dinner at Central Y. M. C. A.

Fathers and sons weer chums last night at a banquet in the central branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, 1736 G street. Approximately 110, about evenly divided, attended and participated in the lively entertainment that followed.

Dr. Mark Depp, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, was principal speaker. Brief talks were made by a few fathers and boys. Worth Shoults, of the National Geographic Society, presided. Music was provided by the Woodward School Orchestra during the dinner.

A program of entertainment that included a basket ball game, checker games, hand ball and a final splash in the pool followed. The Magicians Club, of the boys department, performed a few stunts.

New Graf Zeppelin Hop To U. S. May Come Soon

The legislation would provide for negotiations with the Mount Vernon Ladies Association with a view to purchasing their interests in George Washington's home. In the event such negotiations should fail, Mount Vernon would be acquired by condemnation process.

Private Suspended In Shooting Inquiry

Formal Police Report to Be Filed After Complaint of Four Girls.

Private Ray S. Miller, of the Third Precinct, has been suspended from duty pending completion of an investigation and formal report to be submitted by Capt. William Stott to Maj. Henry Pratt, superintendent of police, into an alleged shooting affray in an apartment at 2147 S street northwest early Wednesday morning.

Miller's suspension followed an investigation by Capt. Stott and police of the Third Precinct into a complaint filed by Misses Blonda Swaney, Lucille Fabert, Catherine Swaney and Pauline Saddler, four girls residing in an adjoining apartment, that two bullets had come through the wall from the apartment next to theirs.

Miller denied any knowledge of the shooting, but Capt. Stott stated that one of the bullets had been found and that he was satisfied that it had been discharged from Miller's service revolver.

Hit-and-Run Motorist Injures Motorcyclist

Alighting from his motorcycle on the Baltimore Boulevard near Hyattsville to inspect a tire, Stanley Kennedy, 21 years old, of Schnectady, N. Y., suffered a fracture of the right shoulder early last night when he was knocked down by a hit-and-run motorist, whose number he obtained.

He was taken to Casualty Hospital by his brother, Wilton Kennedy, 16 years old, also of Schenectady, who was seated in the side car. They were driving from their home to the far South.

MERGER ANNOUNCED BY TWO OIL FIRMS

Court Ruling Is Awaited to Complete $900,000,000 Union Pool.

U. S. TO ASK INJUNCTION

Vacuum lubricating specialties and Standard Oil gasoline abroad against foreign competition. For this reason, the letter of the directors says, the merger is "directly promotive of American interests in business in such countries."

Restraint of Trade Denied.

As proof that the merger will not result in a combination in restraint of trade, forbidden by the anti-trust laws, the letter says:

"The united company, in addition to the specialized lubricating products of the vacuum company, will market, it is estimated, about 9 per cent of the petroleum products consumed in the United States, an amount comparable in volume with the business done by each of several of the larger of its numerous competitors."

According to the letter, the merger plans were submitted to the Government "as has been the custom in important transactions in the past." The Government, it is stated, took the position that the question whether the dissolution decree entered in 1911 might forbid the union of two former subsidiaries of the Standard Oil "Trust" should be decided by the courts.

"There being no available method for asking the courts for an advisory expression as to the specific situation now arising," the letter continues, "the only way to secure a ruling was for the companies to proceed and let the matter be brought before the courts in an appropriate way for determination."

Injunction to Be Asked.

The procedure of the Government, it was learned at Washington tonight, will take the form of an injunction restraining the companies from continuing with the merger. The action probably will be brought in the Federal Circuit Court at St. Louis, which first heard the original Standard Oil case.

The case, undoubtedly, will be appealed to the Supreme Court for a final decision which may have a far-reaching influence on the future of the oil industry. Since the separation of the Standard Oil properties in 1911 a new wave of consolidation has developed, reaching its crest at the present time. If the merger is allowed, it may be followed by several other groupings of oil interests. Even now a billion-dollar merger of the Sinclair companies and four or five smaller organizations is in progress of negotiation, according to Wall street gossip.

GRAY PLANNED TALK ON HOOVER MESSAGE

probably next week. The committee recessed yesterday until Tuesday.

Another letter from Mr. Gray to Mr. O'Neal dated April 4, 1929, said Muscle Shoals was "still very much alive, and influences are constantly being brought to bear upon congressional leaders and even the White House."

It continued: "But, as you know, I doubt that we will be able to do any more on it this session than merely keep it enough to the front that it can not be said to be dead. I suspect the White House thinks I am responsible for most of the telegrams and letters which have come to it recently, and perhaps that accounts for the embargo placed against us recently in denying us the privilege of talking it over with Mr. Hoover."

Four Years Prison for Burglar.

Tom Harvey, Negro, who pleaded guilty last week to two indictments charging housebreaking and larceny, was sentenced yesterday by Justice William Hitz in District Supreme Court to serve four years in the penitentiary. Polish Envoy Soon to Head New Embassy

Mr. Filipowicz Will Present Credentials to President.

By JEAN ELIOT.

THE Minister of Poland, Mr. Tytus Filipowicz, who has been in Mexico City to present his credentials as Polish Minister to Mexico and to attend the inauguration of President Ortiz Rubio, is on his way back to Washington and is expected to arrive on Tuesday or Wednesday. As soon thereafter as arrangements can be made, Mr. Filipowicz will deliver to President Hoover his credentials as Poland's first Ambassador to the United States, which were received in this country shortly after his departure to Mexico. After that, of couse, he will be Ambassador Filipowicz and the Polish Legation will be added to the group of embassies in the State Department's Bible, the diplomatic list.

Mr. Victor Podoski, who has been serving as Charge d'Affaires of Poland in the absence of the minister, will leave Washington tonight for Pittsburgh to represent his government at the funeral of the late Alexander P. Moore, who had been named first Ambassador of the United States to Poland, although his untimely death prevented his assuming his new duties. Mr. Podoski will be host this afternoon at a small tea in his apartment in Riggs Court, the company being limited to some twenty invited guests.

The name of Mr. David S. Kaufman, formerly United States Minister to Bolivia, crops up repeatedly in discussions of a probable successor to Mr. Moore as Ambassador to Poland. He is a Pennsylvanian, as was Mr. Moore and is Mr. John B. Stetson, who had been serving as Minister to Poland until our legation at Warsaw was raised to an embassy. Moreover, and most important, he is said to have the backing of Senator David Aiken Reed, of Pennsylvania, and of practically all of the great Pennsylvania delegation in Congress.

Senator Reed—to digress a bit—is now in London as a delegate to the naval limitation conference, and his preoccupation with this vital bit of statecraft calls to mind a story which went the rounds when Senator Joseph R. Grundy was named by Gov. Fisher of Pennsylvania to the seat left vacant so long while Mr. William S. Vare's election was under dispute.

"Now," said the wiseacres, "Pennsylvania is herself again, with a statesman and a politician running things in Washington as they did in the good old days of Senator Philander Chase Knox and Senator Boise Penrose." And presumably the same summing up might apply even should Mr. Vare defeat Senator Grundy when he comes up for election. The Vare hat is in the ring and should he be successful against Senator Grundy in the primaries there is confidence, at least among Pennsylvania Republicans, that he would be elected.

Miss Thomas Charms With Creole Songs

Mr. and Mrs. Jahncke Hosts at Musicale in Mayflower.

The Acting Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahncke were hosts at a reception and musicale yesterday afternoon at the Mayflower, presenting Miss Edna Thomas in "an hour of old Creole songs." Approximately 200 guests were present, among them representatives of diplomatic and official groups and many from resident society.

Known as "The Lady from Louisiana," Miss Thomas is a native of New Orleans, home of Mr. and Mrs. Jahncke. She has spent years of research in collecting these lovely old songs, half forgotten by the present generation, traveling about in Creole parishes of Louisiana and persuading people to sing for her unrecorded bits which have been handed down from their forebears since the early days of Louisiana. Many Negro melodies are included, cherished by men and women whose first memories are of the crooning of their "ole mammies."

Miss Thomas and her accompanist, Miss Mary Hyams, also of New Orleans, appeared in picturesque crinoline costume, with pantalettes, worn shortly after the close of the Civil War and symbolic of this romantic period of Louisiana history. Their program included a group of Negro spirituals and Creole nursery and love songs sung in a patois peculiar to Louisiana, a combination of French and Spanish dialects.

It was after hearing a program of so-called Negro spirituals in New York in 1920 that Miss Thomas decided to make a study of the Creole songs of Louisiana and to present them in their original charming and delightful form to those who were unable to hear them in the South. It took her just three years to collect the necessary material for her first concert which was given in New York in 1923. Since then Miss Thomas has toured the world twice and been received enthusiastically in England and Australia and also on the continent.

Representative Ruth Baker Pratt and Mrs. George Mesta will preside at the tea table at the reception for which Mrs. James J. Davis and Miss Katherine Huston have sent out cards for Tuesday at 4 o'clock, at the residence of Miss Huston's father, Mr Claudius Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Mrs. Hoover has been sent an invitation to the tea, and Mrs. E. E. Gann has signified her intention of attending. A proposed plan to provide recreational facilities for midshipmen outside of the Naval Academy grounds in Annapolis will be discussed.

Mrs. Davis is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, and Mrs. Clyde Kelly is vice chairman. Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, president general of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. Maurice Crumpacker, and Mrs. John Philip Hill are recent additions to the committee.

Miss Hylda M. Wrenn left yesterday for Allentown, Pa., where she will be the guest of Miss Sallie Sipple over the week-end and will attend the George Washington Birthday ball at Cedar Crest College.

The former, known to her friends as Sally, has frequently visited Washington as the guest of Miss Luvie Moore, now Mrs. George Abel, and is a pretty and attractive brunette. Miss Thacher and Mrs. Abel were schoolmates at Farmington. Judge Thacher has been serving as judge of the United States Court for the Southern District of New York.

Gerrys Hosts To Mrs. Ross In Providence

Former Governor Spends Day at Rhode Island Capital.

Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, formerly Governor of Wyoming and now vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, spent yesterday in Providence, R. I., as the guest of former Senator and Mrs. Peter Goelet Gerry. On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry will have with them Representative Mary T. Norton, of New Jersey, who is to speak that evening at a political rally in the interest of Mr. Gerry's campaign to return to the Senate. Members of the exclusive Newport colony are rallying to Mr. Gerry's support under the leadership of Mrs. Gerry's sister, Mrs. Nicholas Brown; and the interest the campaign is rousing in Rhode Island is echoed in Washington, where the Gerrys are exceedingly popular.

Before going to Providence, presumably to talk politics with the Berrys, Mrs. Ross spent a few days in New York with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Tayloe, of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Tayloe will accompany her on her return to Washington this evening. On Monday evening Mrs. Ross will give a dinner at the Mayflower in honor of Mrs. Tayloe.

DIAL FLASHES

By ROBERT D. HEINL

WHETHER or not there is to be a military regime is the next question in the reorganization of the Federal Radio Commission. Maj. Gen. Charles McK. Saltzman, a Republican, continues to be mentioned in connection with the chairmanship. However, since the election rests with the members themselves—three Republicans and two Democrats—the names of Robinson, the present chairman, and Lafount, Republicans, are also heard.

The President's appointment of Gen. Saltzman, his friend, for the longest term, is taken to indicate that the White House would be favorable to his elevation to the chairmanship.

The National Broadcasting Co. has acquired the New Amsterdam Roof, former home of the Ziegfeld "Follies" in Times Square, for a broadcasting studio. More than $75,000 has been spent reconstructing the theater.

By dropping a six-ton curtain of steel and glass an audience of 600 persons may witness the performance on the stage without danger of extraneous sound penetrating the microphones.

Some of the Metropolitan songbirds may be losing their voices, but her Wagnerian program Thursday night assured listeners that Jeritza was not one of them.

"A STATESMAN arrived in too mellow a mood to fill a broadcasting engagement," Capper's Magazine, the Kansas senator's new tabloid, reports. "Graham McNamee sent him home in a taxicab, explaining to the radio audience that illness had prevented the distinguished man from speaking."

Watch your step, senator, or the grand jury or the House rum probers may descend upon you for the statesman's name.

The usual announcements are being made that the Sharkey-Scott fight will not be broadcast from Miami next Thursday night.

Our guess is that the fight promoters are stalling so as to get as big a crowd to the ringside as possible, and at the last minute the show will be put on the air.

We believe the radio manufacturers, if no one else, will come through with the money.

THE results of the country-wide prohibition poll, following the distribution of 20,000,000 ballots by mail, will be announced nightly beginning at 6:45 o'clock Monday night over the WJZ network, which does not include WRC.

Floyd Gibbons will do the announcing.

The Congressional Club luncheon program Tuesday afternoon, in which Rudy Vallee will take part, will be broadcast at 1:45 o'clock over WRC from the Pan-American Union.

It is not probable that Vallee's music at the Press Club dance that night will be heard over the air.

Dare Interprets the Mode

Paris, Feb. 21.

FOX furs, one finds after being the proud owner of one for more than a couple of years, can be their own special kind of problem. What to do with them in winter—how to keep them clean—what to do with them after they are unrecognizable as furs, are only some of the worries of fox-fur owners.

For all of which problems Dah-ray has a solution!

First of all, any fox at all, whether new or old, has no business being thrown on any old closet shelf when not in use, so that its temperamental little soul can come into hard contact with other unsympathetic articles of feminine wearing apparel; neither should it be hung by its little mouth to an obscure nail. It should be kept in a sachet-scented bag especially designed to keep it from the dust and the sun, and harsh contact with other articles, and give it at the same time freedom to shake itself a bit and fluff up.

• • • •

This bag should, under no circumstances, be moth-balled or anything like that because it is for everyday spring use and not winter storage. For winter storage there are specially prepared paper bags, which are much more practical and less expensive, and which are treated to keep moths from being too inquisitive.

• • • •

Secondly, fox fur should never be sent to a cleaner, but always to a furrier. As to white foxes, when not in use they should be kept in an air-tight box and simply saturated with white cornstarch, which is thoroughly shaken out before they are to be worn. This cornstarch has a pleasing way of taking dust and dirt with it.

And last and not least, when a fox is no longer what a well brought up little fox should be, it still has the possible refuge of becoming all that a well brought up little collar can be, if unkind nature has precluded the possibility of buying another tail to make a new fox fur out of it!

• • • •

This seems quite the proper moment to tell you that I'm going to start fox-hunting with you next week—and before we go a-hunting we have to know what kind of fox looks like what, don't we? Watch for "Fashion Fox Hunting" here.

• • • •

And all prepared as we are to learn about foxes from Dah-ray, how would you like to send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for an illustrated leaflet telling you exactly how to make a bag in which to keep your fox, so that he will live a much longer and more useful life?

• • • •

Pastel colored fur? Yes, even though we don't expect that they will be startlingly popular. The reason for this supposition has nothing whatsoever to do with whether pastel colored furs are lovely or not, because that they are.

• • • •

Black is definitely out as a spring color at the Maison Heim. Pastel shades and colors only does one see there, and of course lots of mixtures—but they, too, are in the lighter shades entirely.

• • • •

Tomorrow's the day again for the weekly Dare fashion letter in The Sunday Washington Post. We hope you won't fail to look for it.

Au Revoir!

Wives of Tomorrow.

By FRANCES M'DONALD

A Golf-Widow.

DEAR Miss McDonald: Is it fair or right for my husband to take himself off every Saturday afternoon and often on Sunday to play golf, leaving me to my own devices? I think a man has a terrible nerve to do this sort of thing. I have not many friends, as I have tried to be a good wife and mind my own business, so I am left to twiddle my thumbs at home while he scampers around a country club.

Since our marriage his income has steadily increased until it is four or five times what it was when we married and I think this has gone to his head, really. When I complain of his selfishness he says "Come along, if you want to and learn." He knows, of course, this is out of the question. Another thing, he will not have a chauffeur, and I can not drive the car. So I might as well be on a mountain top Saturday and Sunday, as I can not get anywhere or do anything. We are only married six years, and I must say things look anything but promising. Do you consider a husband is within his rights in ignoring his wife's existence and considering only his own pleasure and entertainment?

"THE WIFE."

You do not state your age, but since you are married only six years, you are likely under 70, so why is it "out of the question" that you go to a country club with your husband and learn to play golf? If you want my candid opinion I consider you are failing to step along side by side with the man who selected you as a companion for the long, long trail which these days includes a golf course. You know, my dear, life is not nearly so simple as it used to be, and the sit-at-home wives of up-to-the minute husbands usually wake up just in time to be too late.

Men are active creatures, they loathe to sit indoors on their one day of freedom. And why should they? They slave all week to pay for fur coats and cars and dogs and summer homes. Why should they then on their day of rest play slave to a woman's whims?

Country clubs are pleasant places, golf is an obsession with all who go in for it, so why should you deliberately vote down these things to sit at home and fume? Go to the club! Take up golf! Be a companion to the man you married instead of a time keeper. You would even enjoy driving the car if you would once learn. And your most grievous mistake is in having no friends. How can any woman be happy, normal and contented without friends? The atmosphere of a home must be charged with activity in order to satisfy an intelligent man, and the woman whose sole interest in life is her husband's dinner, can not possibly supply an atmosphere so charged.

Get out and do things. Your husband is right and is leading a healthful existence which he invites you to share. You are wrong and are leading a dreary and monotonous and mid-Victorian life which will age you, and eventually cost you the companionship of the man you love.

BRIDGERS, ATTENTION!

Because of space limitations, the answers given in our great Milton C. Work Home Bridge Contest, which ended recently, are necessarily abridged, but in order to satisfy the intense interest of all the contestants in the Questions and Answers, Mr. Work has prepared a splendid 48-page booklet entitled, "Playing Problems," which reproduces the eighteen hands, the complete auction and contract bidding, with the reasons for each bid, the answers to every question and the reasons for such answers in complete detail, all written in Mr. Work's clear and interesting style.

This booklet, "Playing Problems," which will be of much greater value to the auction and contract player than many high-priced textbooks, is not for sale. It has been prepared exclusively for readers of this newspaper by special arrangement with Mr. Work. One copy will be mailed to you upon request if you send self-addressed, stamped return envelope, together with 6 cents in stamps to defray part of the cost of printing and handling this 48-page booklet. Requests not complying with these conditions will be ignored.

For the Player Familiar With Auction But Inexperienced in Contract.

Preceding articles have covered bidding one, two and three No Trumps originally; jumping partner's one No Trump to two or three; and jumping partner's two No Trumps to three. There remains to be discussed the strength required for an original No Trumper to bid three after his one bid has been jumped to two by his partner.

When Contract was young there were many who thought that when they jumped their partner's one No Trump to two, it was obligatory for the original No Trumper to bid three. Of course the idea is utterly ridiculous; if the jumper has strength enough to insist upon three, he should bid the three himself. An original No Trump dealer shows a count of 13, and it is jumped to two by the partner with a count of 9, 10 or 11. With a count of 12 the partner jumps to three. When the original bid is made with a minimum 13 or 14, there is little probability of game facing a partner who can not jump all the way to three; so the dealer should pass and play at two No Trumps. The chances are that he will be able to get the two, and would not be able to make the three; so bidding for the three in such case would produce a penalty and sacrifice a valuable partial score.

But when a dealer has 15 or more, he should bid three over his partner's jump to two; and the same rule applies to second hand who may possibly have bid with a count of 12. When his bid has been with 12, 13 or 14, and his partner has gone to two, he should pass; but with 15 he should try for game.

When the original bid has been made by third or fourth hand, it must have been backed up by a count of at least 14; consequently, as it shows more strength than a bid by dealer or second hand, it may be jumped with a count of 7 and the rebid to three requires a count of 17 in the hand of the original bidder.

No. 1 does not justify a rebid; No. 2 does by dealer or second hand, but not by third or fourth hand; Nos. 3 and 4 justify a rebid in any position.

What Today Means to You

"PISCES."

IF February 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:30 a. m. to 9 a. m., from noon to 1:30 p. m., and from 6 p. m. to 7 p. m. The danger periods are from 10:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m., and from 4:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Financial risks taken on this date may be the source of future regrets. Experience will teach a lesson not soon to be forgotten. Materially, more debits than credits are pictured on your day book, but spiritual contentment and happiness are augured.

The child born on this February 22 will be inclined to show signs of flippancy. The nursery and not the world should be the school in which it should learn proper rules of conduct. It will be very strong willed and will have a good intellect.

You possess few of the conventional virtues, but you court considerable popularity. You are incorrigibly careless and not at all particular in what you say. You are a here-to-day and gone-tomorrow sort of a person. You may temporarily vex people, but you never bore them. Your greatest asset is your good nature; as a companion you are very restful. You never fuss and you never appear worried or out of temper. Your unconcernedness is not an affectation, but your natural attitude toward things. Your troubles—and you are not lightly infested—are passed off as jokes. You have the loveliest of all virtues—courage. Hardships and difficulties never dampen your spirits, and your fund of humor is always a helpful ally.

There is a speculative tendency in your nature, and you will probably have many material "ups and downs" during your lifetime. You are extremely generous and hospitable, and you love a good time. You share your feasts and suffer your famines alone. You are a casual host or hostess, and as a result your house is a popular resort. If married, you are a casual wife or husband, but your mate never tires of your companionship.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

POCKETS IN CHILDREN'S GARMENTS.

(Bureau of Home Economics.)

A child should have pockets in every garment, whether it be a dress, a suit or an outside wrap.

They give a place to stow away "valuable" string, pebbles and small toys as well as a place to tuck the handkerchief.

Three-year-olds soon learn to use a handkerchief if it is in a convenient place, but if it is crammed down in the mitten or up the sleeve, tied through a buttonhole, or put in the hat crown, they will not take time or trouble to hunt it.

Pockets placed near the waistline and slanted across the top are the easiest for the child to reach.

KIDNAPED GAMBLER RESCUED AFTER RAID

QUARTET IS ARRESTED

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Four recent abductions of wealthy gamblers of the St. Louis district tonight were laid on the notorious Cuckoo gang by police, following the rescue of the last of the victims.

Although four persons were arrested in a raid today upon a resort in St. Louis County, a short distance from the city, in which Jacob Hoffman, bookmaker, kidnaped in a spectacular holdup here Tuesday night, was found, police were of the opinion that the leaders of the band of extortionists still were at liberty. One of those sought for questioning was Joe Sinovich, husband of Mrs. Anna Sinovich, one of the four arrested in the raid. The others arrested were the woman's son, John Sinovich, 17; Claude Gillman, 28, said to be a member of the Cuckoo gang and John Pepe, 24, a laborer.

The raid in which Hoffman was rescued was as spectacular as the holdup Tuesday night in which he was kidnaped. Twenty police detectives and county officers, armed with machine guns and tear bombs, went to the house following a report that Hoffman was being held there. The officers, after releasing the gambler, seized a whisky still, a shotgun and four automatic pistols, which they found in the cellar.

Taken to the office of Chief of Police Gerk, Hoffman talked freely, but said he did not know whether any of his friends had paid ransom for him.

Other gamblers kidnaped in this district recently were "Mulepole" Fritz, Harry King, and Jess Ruebling. Friends are reported to have paid approximately $75,000 for their release.

Behind the Screens

With NELSON B. BELL

THOSE of us who occasionally may feel that we are not getting all the best of it in the matters of sound reproduction and projection on F street—and as a matter of fact I doubt if any city has better—may possibly derive some meager bit of comfort from an item just handed me by Mr. Robert D. Heinl, The Post's oracle of the ether. It is a true story, and happened to a friend of a friend of his—as all true stories do!

It seems that the gentleman in question and another official of a company that manufactures sound-reproducing equipment were recently in a Latin-American city which has a large English speaking population. On one of the city's principal streets they passed a theater with a large sign outside announcing that it was equipped with their company's apparatus. It was showing an English language film made in the United States.

The two Americans decided to go in and see how their business was progressing in that part of the world. To get a better check on the reproduction they decided to sit in the last row of the balcony, to be as far from the screen as possible, and to perceive the effect of the talking picture upon the audience. The balcony was empty, so they moved down to the front row to have a look at the orchestra floor and were able to count eleven customers in the house.

After listening for a few minutes, they decided the reproduction was too terrible to endure and got up and walked out. On their way they passed the projection booth and one of them looked in to speak to the operator.

"That is terrible," said he. "Why don't you adjust your machine? If you will stick your head out of the booth and listen to what is going on out there, you will find that your machine is completely out of adjustment and the words are all run together unintelligibly."

The projectionist looked up, shrugged his shoulders and answered, "No comprendo," which is the way we say "I don't understand" in the pure Castillian.

The point of the whole busines is this: If American talking pictures are to get themselves anywhere in non-English-speaking countries, the projectionists will have to be sent out from this country—rather a promising prospect for ambitious young men who are studying sound reproducing equipment, and one that may or may not be construed to have at least some slight bearing upon the present unemployment problem. If there be a present unemployment problem.

While for the time being we have been deprived of the privilege of forming a first-hand impression of the vaunted superiorities of the Fox Grandeur Film, as exemplified by the production of "Happy Days," many reliable reports are finding their way to this desk from the first New York showing at the Roxy Theater.

Everything claimed for Grandeur seems to have been proved true, with the single exception of the matter of distortion of the picturerd image to the vision of those sitting in side seats down front. Since the screen is not actually a third-dimension instrument of entertainment, there seems to be no reason why distortion should not occur from the remote side seats just the same as it always has with the standard width celluloid. Its elimination seems to have been predicated upon the assumption that with a screen 40 feet wide an ordinary theater could not have any remote side seats. The Roxy, however, is not an ordinary theater.

And, if you care to know, Noah Beery is in a serious condition at Hollywood Hospital, on the West Coast, following an operation for appendicitis. . . . Switch to three-reel length for comedies is under advisement by more than one of the big producers, Hal Roach being in the van. . . . Shortening of major features is given as the cause. . . . Lita Gray Chaplin, second wife of the comedian (or was it third?) will star in a series of feature talker-comedies to be produced by Harry Weber, former vaudeville producer and manager. . . . Eugene Walter, playwright, whose wife, Charlotte Walker, was a former Washington stock favorite, has been signed as a scenario editor and dialogue writer for Pathe. . . . Jean Hersholt has received an attractive offer to appear in a New York stage play. . . . And now the Warners are said to be grooming Winnie Lightner for a similar New York engagement in the fall. . . . John McCormack, noted tenor, having finished his first and only, so far, dialogue and song picture, sails from New York with Mrs. McCormack for their home in Ireland today. . . . Conrad Nagel and William Bakewell signed new Warner contracts last week. . . . Sally Eilers is flashing an engagement ring with Hoot Gibson the party of the second part.

That boy must have lost the bucket!

Hotel Aid Is Sued For Maintenance

Mrs. M. E. Prather Says Mate Refuses to Help Support Child.

Charles De V. Prather, assistant manager of the Wardman Park Hotel, was sued for maintenance yesterday in District Supreme Court by his wife, Mrs. Margaret E. Prather, of Connecticut avenue northwest.

The wife says that she and Mr. Prather were married on November 24, 1920, at Culpeper, Va., and lived together until July 15, 1929, when she alleges he packed his clothes and moved to the hotel, and that since then he has spent only one night at the apartment and that was last October.

Mrs. Prather says her husband had kept up the expenses of the apartment very well until January 29. Since then she says he has given her no money with which to buy food for herself and 8-year-old child. She alleges that she telephoned him recently, told him she needed money and that he told her the only way she ever would get an, more would be through the courts.

Mrs. Prather says that she works as an office assistant and nurse of a doctor, but that her salary of $140 will not enable her to feed and clothe herself and the child and pay the expenses of a maid to care for the child while she is at work. Attorneys Marsh & Rogers appear for the wife.

Ten-Year Jail Term For Fatal Stabbing

Elous Williams, colored, convicted recently of manslaughter in connection with the fatal stabbing of Robert Jackson, Negro, last May 30, was sentenced by Justice Hitz, in District Supreme Court yesterday, to serve 10 years in the penitentiary.

Williams, prior to his arrest on the manslaughter charge, was a veteran employe of the District Building, and Attorney James A. O'Shea asked the court to be lenient. The attorney pointed out that brass knuckles were found on Jackson's hands when his body reached the morgue. The altercation occurred at Williams' home in Brooks court.

Box Company Asks Restraining Order

District Officials Ordered to Explain Permit Revocation.

Justice Alfred A. Wheat in District Supreme Court yesterday ordered the District Commissioners and Building Inspector John W. Oehmann to show cause next Friday why they should not be restrained from revoking an occupancy permit which allows the Columbia Specialty Paper Box Co. to use the three top floors of the building at 228 First street northwest.

The property is located in a first commercial zone and it is being used as second commercial, according to the petition for mandatory injunction filed yesterday in the court by Harry Jeffrey and Reuben Aaronson, trading as the Columbia Specialty Paper Box Co. and the Washington Holding Co., a corporation.

Objection to the occupancy of the property as second commercial was made last December and the building inspector, the petition alleges, without a hearing, sent a letter revoking the permit. The petitioners charge that objections come from persons who were seeking to acquire the property for their own use.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Many errors are made by taxpayers in claiming losses incurred in the sale of residential properties. A loss on the sale of property purchased or constructed by the taxpayer for use as his personal residence and so used up to the time of its sale is not deductible. Where, however, property so purchased or constructed is prior to its sale, rented, or otherwise appropriated to income-producing purposes, and is used for such purposes up to the time of its sale, a loss is deductible. The deduction allowable is an amount not to exceed the excess of the value of the property at the time it was so rented or otherwise appropriated (with proper adjustment for depreciation), over the amount realized from the sale. However, in the case of property so appropriated prior to March 1, 1913, the loss is an allowable deduction in an amount not to exceed the excess of the value of the property at the time it was so appropriated or at March 1, 1913, whichever is greater (with proper adjustment for depreciation) over the amount realized from the sale.

Example: Residential property was purchased by a taxpayer in 1922 for use as his personal residence at a cost of $25,000, of which $15,000 was allocable to the building. The property was so used by the taxpayer until January 1, 1927. From that date until December 31, 1929, when the property was sold, it was rented by the taxpayer. The fair market value of the property at the time it was rented on January 1, 1927, was $22,000. The building had an estimated life of 20 years when the property was purchased by the taxpayer in 1922. The property was sold on December 31 1929, for $16,000. The loss from the sale allowable as a deduction is $3,750, computed as follows:

Less depreciation allowable in respect of the building (depreciation for 3 years at 5 per cent based on $15,000, cost of building)	2,250
	$22,750
Selling price of property	16,000
Loss	$6,750
Value of property at time it was rented on January 1, 1927	$22,000
Less proper adjustment for depreciation	2,250
	$19,750
Selling price of property	16,000
Portion of $6,750 loss which is deductible	$3,750

Fifth Ave. Fashions NEW YORK

It will be difficult to find a better way to make a dress for all-day occasions in which you will always appear so utterly chic, and at the same time give such wonderful service.

All patterns of Lucille Lorraine styles are 15 cents each. Mail your order to our Fashion Department, Washington Post, 259 Fifth avenue, New York City. Be sure to write your name and address clearly and give the number and size of the pattern.

Street Closing Voted In Path of New School

Closing of Eighteenth street and Eighteenth place northeast, between B and C streets, together with alleys between B and C and Seventeenth and Nineteenth streets, is provided in a bill approved yesterday by the District Commissioners.

The bill provides also for the closing of B street from Seventeenth to Nineteenth, but this will not be necessary, the Commissioners said. The closing of the streets and alleys is to provide adequate space for the proposed Charles W. Eliot Junior High School, plans for which are nearly complete.

Park Board Plans Changes in Roads

New Hampshire Avenue to Be Cut Through if Idea Prevails.

A proposal of the Washington Board of Trade that New Hampshire avenue be cut through from Concord avenue northwest to the District line was approved by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission yesterday.

The commission also approved a draft of a proposed bill to eliminate the offsets to Harvard street and to straighten that thoroughfare. The draft was made by members of the staff of the commission in connection with its major thoroughfare scheme for the city.

The consolidated report of the special interstate committee for the study of coordinated drainage and sewerage plans for the metropolitan area of Washington was approved with reservations and suggestions for further study. J. B. Gordon, sanitary engineer of the District, and representatives from nearby Maryland and Virginia counties, together with Capt. Edward N. Chisholm, jr., commission engineer, and Charles W. Eliot, jr., city planner, made up the committee.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

TREATMENT OF MENINGITIS.

IN the late spring of 1929 Surgeon General Cumming warned the country to look out for an epidemic of meningitis. The disease was mildly and intensely seeded, outbreaks of meningitis had been numerous during the preceding winter and spring. At that time we advised that there was no danger of immediate trouble but that the same could not be said of the following winter and spring.

Meningitis is a disease of cold, wet weather. During the summer season there is little of it. When the winter cold and wet commences the disease comes out of its estivation and proceeds to prey on men. As a rule its prevalence increases gradually until December; then it spurts and reaches a peak about March, after which there is a slow decline in April, followed by a rapid one in May and June.

When noses are examined bacteriologically in the earlier part of the season about one to two out of each hundred will be found to harbor meningococci. Before the New Year this proportion is apt to increase to five or ten to the hundred. In these circumstances experienced military medical officers and physicians to schools—boarding schools especially—know that trouble is impending and precautions are begun.

The disease is especially prone to develop among young men in military camps and dormitories. No crowding is allowed. Double decking of beds is done away with. The space between beds is increased. Beds are arranged so that heads to the wall alternate with feet to the wall. Screens are placed between beds. Crowding in mess halls and in assembly rooms is forbidden.

If the spring is very wet these precautions are redoubled. While exposure to outside cold and rain, with wet clothing and wet shoes, is harmful, exposure to crowds indoors is still more so. Every effort is made to prevent susceptibles from catching cold. When a man develops a coryza he is put to bed and thus both he and his associates are protected. He is especially cautioned against exposing others to his sprays when he sneezes and coughs.

It would seem that the best way of preventing epidemics of meningitis would be to discover who are the carriers of the coccus and to sterilize their noses. This has been tried many times and on an extensive scale. During the World War the carriers went into huts where the air was filled with zinc solution spray. They sat about or lay down, breathing this spray for a few minutes daily. This seemed to be of service, yet it was not wholly satisfactory, and it is far from certain that the military authorities would repeat this method if they were called on to control meningitis today.

G.U.-NAVY BOUTS TOP HEAVY COLLEGE CARD TODAY

Horton Smith Gains Lead With 66

Has Poor 40 on Out Nine; Clark Has 138 Total.

By DILLON L. GRAHAM.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Horton Smith, the sensational young links wizard from Detroit, Mich., shot a par-shattering 66 here today to take the lead among 90 entrants at the halfway mark in the $3,000 Savannah open golf tournament. His brilliant score of today, coupled with his 71 of yesterday, gave him a 137.

While the Detroit golfer, who formerly registered from Joplin, Mo., was stroking his way around in 8 under par and equaling the course record, Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, national open king, was encountering trouble at almost every hole.

Jones Falters on Outward Nine.

Jones faltered badly on the outward nine for a 40, 3 over par, but settled down on the home nine for a 35. His 75 today together with his 67 of yesterday placed him in a tie for fifth place with 142.

Jones missed at least half a dozen putts by inches that spelled difference between leading and dropping back. On the second hole he needed a seven, three over par, and again on the sixth was over par. His card included four birdies, but showed him over par on an equal number of holes.

Four strokes away and tied for third honors were Emmett French, of Southern Pines, N. C., and Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., with 141. French had a 73 today to add to his 68 of yesterday, while Dudley, who posted a 72 yesterday, shot a great 69 today.

Johnny Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla., former national open champion, was deadlocked with three other cash players for seventh place with 143. Jeff Adams, Savannah professional, who had a 68 yesterday for second place; Mike Turnesa, of New York, and Bobby Cruickshank, of Purchase, N. Y., also posted 143's.

144 Group Includes Five Stars.

Clustered within striking distance of the leader with 144's were five well-known exponents of golf for cash. Whiffy Cox, of Brooklyn; Wild Bill Mehlhorn, of Pensacola; Neil McIntyre, of Indianapolis; Clem Weichman, of Portsmouth, Ohio, and the veteran Al Espinosa, of Chicago, all posted this score.

After shooting a par four on the first hole, Smith drove into a trap near the second green, but made a nice recovery and was on the carpet in two. He sank a short putt for a birdie three. Horton got another birdie on the third, but had trouble on the par four fourth and took a bogie five. He needed two putts.

After a par four on the fifth, Horton scored a birdie three on the 251-yard sixth, made par figures on the seventh and eighth, and finished the outward trip with a birdie four on the ninth hole.

The first two holes of the inward nine were made in par, while Smith got a birdie four on the twelfth and scored an eagle on the 248-yard thirteenth. He was on the green with his drive and sank a 15-foot putt. The fourteenth and fifteenth were made in regulation figures, while Smith got birdie fours on both the long sixteenth and seventeenth holes. He completed his great round with a par four on the eighteenth hole.

Nats Sign Sam Jones To 1930 Bonus Contract

Pitcher "Sad Sam" Jones accepted 1930 terms with the Nationals yesterday, according to word received from President Clark Griffith, of the Washington Club, who is vacationing at Biloxi, Miss., where Manager Johnson will open his training camp next week. Jones was one of the quartet to whom Griffith declined to offer a regular contract, the veteran, who had a bad year last season, being forced to accept terms which give him a star's salary only in case he makes good. He will report for training with the first squad, being due to arrive at the Mississippi camp next Wednesday or Thursday.

LATZO BEATS JOHNSON IN SURPRISE

By EDWARD J. NEIL.

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Pete Latzo, one of those game old veterans who never seems to lost his grip, came back to the big battle pit tonight and neatly chastized Larry Johnson, a villainous puncher of the younger generation, in a smart, fast ten-round skirmish that furnished 12,000 of teh faithful with one of the major surprises of the indoor season.

Nursing a fractured jaw, broken for the second time by Jimmy Braddock's sock over a year ago, Pudgy Pete administered an artful lesson to one of the most savage right-hand punchers in the 175-pound division. He won the decision by the barest of margins. Even the judges and referee failed to agree, but he did manage to squeak through, tender chin and all, by the breadth of a round or so.

Pete was woefully stout after his lengthy layoff, none too aggressive, but he had experience and courage, the twin cauliflower characteristics most demoralizing to overanxious youth.

Johnson Fails to Land Squarely.

Johnson, a lithe Chicago Negro, fresh from a string of fifteen knockouts, three of them in succession over Leo Mitchell, Joe Sekyra and Fred Lenhart in this same battle pit, never could land his famed right hand smash solidly.

Johnson was a 3-to-1 favorite to whip the former welterweight champion on past performances. It was even suggested that the match should have been prohibited due to the tendency of Latzo's jaw to crack up under heavy punches. K. O. Phil Kaplan broke Pete's jaw with a left hook two years before Braddock sent the old gladiator again to the hospital ward.

Although the decision met osme disapproval at the ringside and was booed a bit by the customers, it gave Latzo the right to meet Maxey Rosenbloom here March 10 in a contest to decide the first challenger for the light heavyweight title recently awarded Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, by the New York State Athletic Commission.

Polish Runner Wins In 3,000-Meter Run

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Stanislaw Petkiewicz, of Poland, added another triumph of his string at the Elks interscholastic track and field meet here tonight, beating Nat Lerner, of New York University, his sole rival, by half a lap in a 3,000-meter run. Petkiewicz led all the way and won as he pleased. The time was 8:50.

Dwight Davis' Niece, Daughter Net Victors

Manila, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Alice and Alita Davis, respectively daughter and niece of Dwight F. Davis, governor general of the Philippine Islands and donor of the famous tennis cup, played today in their opening matches of the Philippine National Tennis Tournament. Alice Davis defeated Maria Delpan, 6—0, 6—1, while Alita Davis defeated Mrs. Zimmerman, 6—3, 6—4. The governor general's daughter is a good player and it is believed that she may win the Philippine championship for women.

The men's singles became an all-Japanese affair when J. Sato, third ranking Japanese, defeated Lope Yngayo, second ranking Filipino, 6—4, 6—3, 7—5, in the semifinals. R. Nunoi, fourth ranking Japanese, eliminated Francisco Aragon, defending Filipino champion, yesterday.

Vance Signs For Year at $20,000

Dodgers' Mound Ace Takes $5,000 Cut in Salary.

News and Notes of Other Big League Training Camps.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Arthur "Dazzy" Vance, star right-hand pitcher of the Brooklyn Robins, agreed today to sign a one-year contract at a salary of $20,000, the Brooklyn management announced. Vance, one of the highest paid hurlers in organized baseball, received $25,000 for his services last season.

Vance, whose home is in Clearwater, Fla., where the Dodgers will hold spring training, telegraphed his acceptance of terms to club headquarters here. The Dazzler has been the club's chief holdout, an "honor" now transferred to Babe Herman, Dodgers' slugging outfielder, who has failed as yet to come to terms.

Vance is 36 years old and is famed for the speed of his fast ball and his strikeout records. Due to illness early in the season and general inability to round into his best form, Vance won only fourteen games for Brooklyn last season while losing thirteen.

Cubs, on Coast, to Rest Until Sunday.

Needles, Calif., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Train-tired by 72 hours of riding toward the scene of their early baseball labors, the athletes included in the first squad of the National League champion Chicago Cubs were cheered today by the announcement that no work will be done until Sunday.

Manager Joe McCarthy had planned to send the boys right to work, but changed his mind and decided to let them limber up on the Catalina Island golf course this afternoon and tomorrow.

The arrival in Los Angeles was scheduled for this morning, with the last of the rides, a boat trip to William Wrigley's island, to follow immediately.

Batterymen Tardy at Chisox Camp.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Manager Donie Bush, of the Chicago White Sox, today was beginning to wonder what has become of several prospective batterymen.

The pitchers and catchers were ordered to report last Monday, but Dutch Henry, former New York Giant southpaw, who came to the Sox at the end of last season; Pitcher George (Rubber-Arm) Connally, and Johnny Riddle, youthful catcher, purchased from Indianapolis just before the squad left Chicago, nearly a week ago, have not appeared.

The practice field problem was solved in a big way yesterday when Secretary Harry Grabiner located a park in the Mexican quarter, a site even better than the San Antonio Texas League field, which the Sox have been sharing with the New York Giants.

Petty and Bool Join Pirate Squad.

Syracuse, Kans., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—The Pittsburgh Pirate advance guard neared completion today. All the players on the list to be picked up between Pittsburgh and Los Angeles had joined the party today as the club sped over the last half of the trip to the training camp in Paso Robles, Calif. Others will join the team in Los Angeles.

The latest additions to the party included Hurlers Jess Petty and Heinie Meine and Catcher Bool, as well as a flock of rookies.

Whitney Returns Second Contract to Phils.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Arthur C. (Pinky) Whitney, third baseman of the Philadelphia National League Club, announced here today that he had returned unsigned a second contract sent him by the Phillies.

Whitney said the second contract was the same as the first, which he returned several weeks ago. "I am not asking for a huge salary, but expect an increase in keeping with my performance during the 1929 season," he said.

Whitney was rated one of the best third basemen in the National League last year and batted well over the .300 mark.

Picinich and Gilbert Sign With Robins.

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Val Picinich, catcher, and Wally Gilbert, third baseman, for the Brooklyn Dodgers, have turned in their signed contracts. Most of the Robins either are on their way or will leave tonight for the spring training grounds at Clearwater, Fla.

Fields Meets Corbett In Coast Bout Today

San Francisco, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Pugilistic paths of two of the greatest welterweights ever developed in California will converge here tomorrow afternoon when Jackie Fields, champion, and Young Corbett, sturdy southpaw from Fresno, trade punches in a 10-round bout whose nontitle status is a minor detail compared to the fact that these keen rivals are meeting for the first time.

Fields won the title from Joe Dundee last August, but for many months before that time Corbett was camping on his trail.

Before winning the championship and up until he signed for this bout, Fields had passed up the challenger, claiming that his left-handed rival was an unorthodox boxer. A matter of $25,000 said to be the largest guarantee ever made for a nontitle welterweight bout, caused the title holder to forget his prejudice against southpaws.

Fields and Corbett rose to fame in San Francisco rings. It was here that Fields paved the way for a chance at the title by trouncing Young Jack Thompson shortly after the Negro had knocked out Champion Joe Dundee in a nontitle affair. Corbett also defeated Thompson here.

4 Hilltop Athletes Injured, 2 Captains, in Auto Crash

Hugh Miller, Post Staff Photographer.

McCarthy, Milstead Among Badly Hurt in Collision.

CAPTAINS of two varsity teams and two other Georgetown University athletes were seriously injured early yesterday morning in an automobile accident on the Baltimore boulevard, near Laurel.

The four students, who were returning from a visit to Baltimore, were thrown clear of the car when their automobile struck a parked machine. The injured are Maurice J. McCarthy, jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., basket ball captain and former intercollegiate golf champion; Larry Milstead, of Ocean City, N. J., track captain; Joseph Cranley, of Chicago, track man, and Tom Murphy, of Philipsburg, N. J., substitute football end.

McCarthy Blinded by Oncoming Lights.

State Policeman Serman quoted McCarthy, who was driving the car back to Washington from a visit of the party to Baltimore, as saying that he was blinded by the headlights of an oncoming machine and did not see the parked automobile, which, he said, bore no parking light. McCarthy was charged with reckless driving and posted $6.45 collateral for his appearance at Laurel later.

Murphy, the most severely injured of the group, with Cranley, was removed to Casualty Hospital and discharged later in the day, but last night the two entered Georgetown University Hospital for treatment. McCarthy and Milstead, after emergency treatment at Georgetown Hospital, were sent to their homes outside the campus where they are confined to bed.

Numerous Injuries Sustained.

Murphy—Slight concussion of the brain and many contusions of the body. Lacerations of the forehead which required several stitches; abrasions of the jaw.

Milstead—Slight concussion of the brain; severe lacerations on jaw, which required several stitches, and contusions about the head.

McCausland Scores In Squash Feature

Chicago, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Jay McCausland, of Toronto, this afternoon won the opening match of the individual event of the national squash racquets championships, defeating T. H Burke, of Pittsburgh, in straight games, 15—10, 15—6, 15—7.

W. F. Howe, of Boston, forfeited his first round match to E. Smith, of Detroit. The individual event is being played at the Harvard-Yale and Princeton Club.

Notre Dame Gridman Named Wichita Coach

Wichita, Kans., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Louis Gebert, member of the 1929 Notre Dame Football Squad, today was named athletic director and head football coach at the University of Wichita by the board of regents.

He will succeed Sam Hill, resigned. The regents voted to make a two-year contract at a salary of $3,750 for the first year and an increase the second year.

Four Soccer Games On Card Tomorrow

Soccer fans who have been denied their favorite sport for more than four weeks due to inclement weather are hoping that the weather man will relent tomorrow and permit the four games scheduled to be played.

One of the best games of the season is on tap at the Friends Field on Wisconsin avenue, where the British Uniteds and Washington Soccer Club will meet in a Washington Soccer League game. The D. C. Kickers will play Silver Spring at Silver Spring. Rosedale will meet Marlboro at Marlboro and Gaelic-Americans will play Rockville on the Monument Grounds in other scheduled games.

Eastern Gridmen May Have Spring Training

Spring training for the Eastern High Gridmen may be effected this year for the first time, according to Chief Charley Guyon, athletic director of the Lincoln Park institution. If proposed plans succeed, Eastern will be third high school to carry on the early seasoning, Central and Western already being scheduled to have the spring drills.

Although never attempted before by the Light Blue and White, the graduation of ten of its eleven regulars of the 1929 season leaves the team in a greatly weakened condition for the '30 campaign. Although several likely substitutes will hold over, they must be organized in some way, which is likely to be the purpose of the training within the next few months.

French Rugby Hosts Invade England Today

Paris, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—France's greatest invasion of England since the days of William the Conqueror, set out for London tonight to see the French rugby team play England for the international championship at Twickenham tomorrow.

Two special trains were needed to convey the French rugby delegation and its entourage. Instead of naval experts, France sent back to England 15 stalwart rugby men on whom there were no tonnage limitations. The eight French forwards average 215 pounds to the man and are the capital ships of the squad. The seven back field members come within the category of light but fast cruisers.

The French newspapers tonight displayed keener interest in the international match than in the new ministry or in the London naval conference. Politics will have to wait tomorrow on the air, for all the French wireless stations will be given up in the afternoon to rugby news.

Texan Wins Gun Event, Breaking 99 Pigeons

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—E. F. Woodward, of Houston, Tex., won the Arizona Hundred, feature event on today's program at the Arizona State trap shoot here when he broke 99 out of a possible 100 targets.

R. Grady Watson, of Phoenix, was high man in the class B event, also breaking 99. George T. Peter, Phoenix star, broke 97 in class A. Mark Arie, Olympic champion, of Champaign, Ill., scored 96, being topped by the American champion, Frank Troeh, of Portland, Oreg., who had 97.

Midwick Poloists Beat Cypress Point

Del Monte, Calif., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Purple-shirted poloists from Midwick rode to a thrilling victory over the Cypress Point Team here today, 14-11, in the second round of the all-American matches. Eric Pedley, national star, made sure of the Midwick victory by scoring three goals in the eighth chukker after the score had been tied in the seventh.

W. W. Crocker, Capt. H. Walford, Arthur Perkins and William Tevis played brilliant polo, but were unable to stem the Midwick attack. As a result of its victory, Midwick will play San Carlos in the finals of the all-American matches Sunday afternoon and Cypress Point and Pebble Beach will meet in the forenoon consolation event. There will be a special Washington Birthday tournament here tomorrow.

Kearns Files Suit To Annul Marriage

Chicago, Feb. 21. (A.P.).—Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, today filed suit in Circuit Court for the annulment of his marriage to Mrs. Legana Angel Kearns. The bill disappeared immediately after it was filed, and Albert Sabath, Kearns' attorney, was reported "away on business" when newspapermen called.

Mrs. Kearns, who as an actress uses the name of Edith Angel, was married to Kearns by contract on March 22, 1924, and the couple separated the same day. The former manager of the world heavyweight boxing champion alleged he was "coerced" into the marriage by threats of "unfavorable publicity."

In entering into the contract form of marriage with the actress, Kearns agreed to pay her $500 a month after their separation. These payments were kept up until last October, and since then Mrs. Kearns has obtained judgments of $2,000 each month. A recent attempt to enforce one of these judgments, when Kearns was ill in California, failed.

Kearns asks an injunction restraining his wife from attempting to enforce this and other attachments pending disposition of his suit. Kearns now lives in Chicago and is manager of Mickey Walker.

Scott Unhurt In Tumbling From Ring

Is Fast and Shifty in 8-Round Workout With Mates.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Phil Scott, who seems to be pursued by a jinx in his preparations for the 15-round match with Jack Sharkey next Thursday night, was tumbling out of the ring today as the latest contribution to his series of minor mishaps.

Backing away from a wild, free swinging rush by Charley Hahn, chunky New York middleweight, in the very first round of his sparring session, Scott partially tripped over the ring canvas. As he dueked, a glancing right hand blow threw him completely off balance and the lanky Briton tumbled through the lower ropes, his feet up in the air. It was almost a duplicate of the famous stunt that Jack Dempsey performed when he was sent backward out of the ring by Luis Firpo. Phil managed to grasp the lower strand of rope, saving himself from possible serious injury.

Scott, Unhurt, Continues Workout.

Except for the damage to his dignity, Scott clambered back unhurt and proceeded with his workout. In fact, the mishap seemed to act as a stimulant to the pale British champion, for he went at the rest of his work with unusual spirit and impressed the critics with his best exhibition of boxing in many days. Phil was much faster and shiftier than when he performed before Palm Beach society yesterday at the Oasis Club. He worked eight rounds altogether, against Hahn, Jack Renault, Jack Demave and Bill Middlekauff. He weighed a little under 205 pounds at the conclusion of his workout.

By contrast, Sharkey was not quite so impressive to the experts as usual in today's workout, which marked the virtual end of intensive ring activity by the Boston sailor. Jack was slower afoot than he has been and his punches did not have their customary snap, but his showing was not regarded as significant of anything except that he has had a slight letdown. He boxed only four rounds against Pierre Charles and Johnny Grosso.

"I figured I was due for an off-day," said Sharkey afterward. "This was it." There seems no cause for criticism of Sharkey's general condition.

All four of the "big shots" on the heavyweight card did their stuff on the Miami fronts today, with Johnny Risko coming down from Hollywood for a workout in Scott's quarters and Victorio Campolo again exhibiting his bulk and punch before the curious at Miami Beach. Risko, down to about 200 pounds now, will concede at least 30 pounds to his Argentine rival in their 10-round semifinal. He worked only four rounds in order not to lose any extra poundage. Campolo boxed four fast rounds.

Tommy Loughran was stamped with the official "OK" of the Miami Boxing Commission after a medical examination today and received his license for the preliminary match with Pierre Charles.

The boxing board canvassed the referee situation again today, shuffling the list of eligibles, but it was understood the selections for third men in the ring already had been agreed on. Lou Magnolia, of New York, is slated to handle the main go; Jimmy Crowley or Kid McPartland, of New York, the semifinal between Risko and Campolo, with Johnny Brassil, of Boston and Frank McCracken, of Philadelphia, officiating in other preliminaries.

G. U. Places Hopes in Bordeau, Fish and Tardugno.

Catholic U. and G. W. Fives Meet in Local Feature.

WASHINGTON has three varsity basket ball games in its own back yard tonight, but fandom's attention in the main will be focused on Annapolis, where Georgetown's valiants will be meeting the Naval Academy boxing team, which is nearing completion of its eleventh season unbeaten in a dual match.

Navy's boxing meet with Georgetown is the choice event of a card at the Naval Academy that comprises eleven contests with visiting teams and a capacity crowd will be in Dahlgren Hall, which can accommodate 5,000 persons.

Georgetown Given Chance To Win 3 Bouts.

Georgetown supporters hardly hope to mar the Navy's impressive record, but fond hopes that the Hilltoppers will win three of the seven bouts are entertained, what with Fish, Tardugno and Bordeau fighting in impressive fashion in every bout this season. Navy's pronounced superiority is indicated in the remaining bouts on the program, with Georgetown followers clinging to a faint belief that Tierney might triumph in the middleweight class, thus giving the Hilltoppers an edge of four to three.

Spike Webb, Navy Coach, who refereed the Georgetown-Washington and Lee bouts last Monday, which Georgetown won 4 to 3, has pronounced the Hilltoppers as the best team to oppose Navy thus far this season. He was especially impressed with the fighting of Fish, Georgetown's intercollegiate champion; Bordeau, the G. U. light-heavyweight, and Tardugno, featherweight.

Donaldson to Oppose Navy Heavyweight.

With Cordovano, Georgetown heavyweight out of the line-up with an injured eye, it appeared yesterday Donaldson, big football end, who, volunteered, would be given the chance to oppose Chappie, Navy heavyweight, thus giving Georgetown a full representation. Donaldson, who went to the semifinals in the intramural tournament last year, doubtless will be the choice over Duborsky for the match. The latter, a big football guard, is willing but totally inexperienced.

There was little chance yesterday that Cordovano would be able to fight, although it was thought that if the match was tied at 3-3 at the time of the heavyweight battle that he might be pressed into service if his injured eye had healed sufficiently. If the heavyweight bout has no bearing on the result, he will not be used.

The Fish-Hall bout and the Bordeau-Swann match loom as the choicest of the program. Both Georgetown fighters scored knockouts against Washington and Lee. Swann, the hardest hitter on the Navy squad, will meet in Bordeau the most rugged fighter ever to represent Georgetown. He has shown an almost indifference to punishment and has clubbed his way to knockout victories in more than half of his fights.

Maryland Five Plays Two Games.

Maryland University will bid for patronage in two basket ball games today, meeting Johns Hopkins at Baltimore in the afternoon and returning to College Park to take on the Virginia Military Institute Quintet tonight.

Georgetown's basket ball team is to meet the Knights of Columbus Five at Ryan Gymnasium tonight, but the local basket ball spotlight will fall upon the George Washington-Catholic University game at Brookland in which the Cardinals will seek to end a streak of 14 consecutive basket ball defeats, while the Colonials, who are the favorites, will be seeking to atone in part for the overwhelming football defeat at the hands of the Cardinals last fall.

University, Miss., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Edward L. Walker, Columbia University head line coach, was appointed by the University of Mississippi athletic committee today to succeed Coach Homer Hazel as athletic director and head football and basket ball coach at Ole Miss.

Mortimer, Pell Reach Title Racquets Final

Boston, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Stanley G. Mortimer, of Tuxedo, N. Y., became a finalist in the national racquets championship tournament today when he defeated Hewitt Morgan, of New York, holder of the American court tennis title, by 18—14, 16—18, 10—15, 15—1, 15—6. Mortimer has won the racquets title three times. He will oppose Clarence C. Pell, veteran New York star, for the 1930 championship.

Pell defeated Peter Kemp Welch, young English player, in straight games, 15—5, 18—16, 15—10, in the other semifinal play. Pell has held the American title nine times.

Central Gets Permission For Penn Tournament

Official permission to enter the Penn Tournament was received by the Central High Basket Ball Team, making the third local school to receive sanction to compete in the classic. Western and Tech had already been notified of the O. K. of the authorities.

Although Central did not fare as successfully in the interhigh series as its early performances predicted, Blue and White teams have always been successful in the Penn tournaments and the 1930 five is looking forward to maintaining its reputation in the scholastic meet.

Schaaf Wins Decision Over K. O. Christner

Boston, Mass., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, squared his accounts with K. O. Christner, of Akron, Ohio, by edging him out of the decision here tonight in the grueling 10-round contest that featured the Argonne A. A. show. Schaff weighed 202 and Christner was 7 pounds lighter. The latter won when they clashed here several months ago.

Both were eager for battle and they slugged from bell to bell. Christner tried to score a knockout with his heavy right to the head and body and Schaaf, who had the same ambition, tried to batter the rubber worker down with his stinging lefts.

The lead shifted from one to the other up to the ninth. Schaaf's best round. During this session, he battered Christner's face with several stinging lefts, scoring enough points to put him out in front. Schaaf was also impressive in the fifth.

KEENEY PARK ACQUIRED BY HOCKEY MAGNATE

18-Day Meet Will Open March 10

Dwyer, New Owner, Said to Have Paid $150,000.

Previous Meeting at Jacksonville Was Failure.

By ORLO ROBERTSON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Eighteen more days of thoroughbred racing was assured the State of Florida today, when William Dwyer, owner of the New York Americans Hockey Club, became the owner of Keeney Park, located midway between Jacksonville and St. Augustine.

With the termination of the meeting at Hialeah Park, Miami, the thoroughbreds will move to Keeney Park for a session opening March 10 and closing March 29—two days before the opening of the Northern tracks at Bowie in Maryland.

Purchase Price Said To be $150,000.

The deal, transferring the second largest track in Florida from the hands of Frank Keeney to the Hockey magnate, was consummated today following a series of conferences. Although the purchase price was not announced. It is thought to have been close to $150,000. Dwyer is said to have offered that amount at a previous conference, $112,000 of which was to be paid in cash. The remaining $38,000 was owed by Keeney for construction work on the track.

Keeney, owner and builder of the track, has long been the fireball of racing in Florida. He built Pompano and Keeney Park to run in opposition to the Miami Jockey Club at Hialeah. The Jacksonville track, however, was not opened until last year when a three-week meeting was held with only fair success. A second meeting was started in December but terminated suddenly with the disappearance of Keeney at a time when the track was becoming popular.

Keeney Said to Have Lost Money.

The shutdown was attributed to the fact that the wagering system in use was under fire. Men close to the situation, however, said the meeting was stopped because Keeney was going further and further into the hole financially with each day's racing.

The new owner of the plant has been interested in the turf for several years. He races a string of horses under the name of the Montalvo Stud, of which Gonacher is the ace. He also owns controlling interest in the Coney Island track in Ohio and Mount Royal in Canada.

A. players will meet at the "Y" at 5:15 o'clock. The following players will make the trip: Woodward, Harding, Henretty, Thornton, Terneak, Berman, Van Bergen, Tex, Krumm and Vineberg.

Eastern High Tossers Complete 1930 Season

The second high school court team to hang up its uniforms for the season was made known yesterday when it was announced that Eastern was definitely through with the court game for the year. Although nine more games remained on the Lincoln Parkers' schedule, several members of its team have already participated in outside games, making them ineligible for further competition with the Eastern Five.

An attempt to bring the George Washington Freshmen Five to the Eastern Gymnasium for the season's finale last Thursday could not be arranged by the freshman management, whereby Chief Guyon decided to call it a year. Business gave up the game two weeks ago.

J. C. C. Flashes, Winners In 50 of 52 Court Games, In A. A. U. Tournament

"WE have taken our annual defeat, so we should be all set to win the District championship," thus the members of the Jewish Community Center Flashes sum up their prospects for a title in the District A. A. U. championship basket ball tournament to be held under the auspices of The Washington Post, starting March 10. The Flashes lost one game last year, that in the A. A. U. tournament. This year they lost the first game of the season, and since have not dropped a contest in nineteen starts. Having lost but two games in the last two seasons the Flashes figure they are destined to bag the 130-pound title next month.

It is an enviable record that these lads present to support their claim for titular honors. They won 32 games and lost one last year. The Aztecs trimmed them in the A. A. U. tournament. This year they started off the campaign by losing to the De Luxe passers in their first game in the Boys Club League. Since then they have not again tasted defeat, avenging their earlier humiliation by trouncing the De Luxe Five on the occasion of their second meeting.

Virtually Assured J. C. C. Title.

Undefeated in the Jewish Community Center League, the Flashes are out in front and virtually assured of a title there. They are also leading the 145-pound championship race in the Boys Club League, and although less certain of copping the title than they are in the J. C. C. circuit, they are rated on even terms with the De Luxe Five, which will shoot at the 145-pound District championship in the big tournament.

Speedy floor work has made these slim youngsters dangerous foes for much heavier opponents. Most of the members of the team have played together for several seasons and practically the same team which went into the semifinals last March will take the floor when hostilities open next month.

Entries May Exceed 100 Teams.

Entries for the 115 and 100 pound boys' classes and the unlimited and junior women's classes also promise to surpass in number those of last year with the grand total of entrants in the seven classes likely to exceed 100 in number. All previous records were broken last year when 89 teams competed. It is practically assured that this number will be exceeded this year.

Individual and team registrations for all classes must be filed before midnight of February 28. No entries will be accepted after that date. William E. Russell, registration official, has announced. Teams entered in the 145-pound and unlimited men's classes are also required to file their team entries before midnight of February 28. The tasks of weighing players and drafting schedules of the various classes will be begun immediately after entries close. All applications for registration with the A. A. U. will be reviewed by the registration committee immediately and membership cards issued to those individuals approved.

SAINTS BEAT GONZAGA, 33 TO 29

Capacity Crowd Sees St. John's Score; Scanlon Star.

BEFORE a crowd which jammed the Vermont Avenue Gymnasium to capacity, St. John's Basket Ball Team added further honors to its basket ball honors for 1930 when it defeated its dearest rival—Gonzaga—by the score of 33 to 29. Although Gonzaga rallied gamely in the last quarter of the game, the cadets were able to stave off the rush, and at no time were approached nearer than 4 points.

Although Gonzaga got off to an early lead on Farrell's foul toss and managed to keep ahead at 3 to 2, St John's quickly got into stride and forged to the front. With Capt. Andy Morris leading the attack the cadets were leading, 17 to 8, at the intermission interval.

The home team increased its margin to 11 points in the next period, leading, 25 to 14, as the final quarter began. It was then that the Purple threatened for the only time of the game, outscoring their foe by 7 points in the final ten minutes of play, but which was insufficient to close the gap. Scanlon and Gallagher also took leading roles in the triumph with 9 and 8 points, respectively.

Friends Five Scores Over Episcopal, 27-22

The Friends School regulars were pressed all the way yesterday on their home floor to turn back the Episcopal High School Juniors, 27 to 22. The teams battled on even terms for the first half, 13 to 13, and only a late spurt by the victors brought them home on top. Fairbanks and Legge led the winning attack, while Shuford and Fishburne set the pace for the losers.

The United Typewriter Grays scored their first victory in the Washington Independent League last night when they defeated the Woodlawn five, 43-25, in the Gonzaga Gymnasium. AMERICAN U. FIVE ROUTS GALLAUDET, 40 TO 21

Blues Falter In Second Half

Eagles' Scoring Rampage Is Led by Colison.

Teams Battle on Even Terms During First 24 Minutes.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY completely spoiled Gallaudet's farewell to the 1930 court season last night at the Massachusetts Avenue Gymnasium when it turned what loomed as a perfectly good ball game into a perfect rout of the Blues shortly after the second half began. After 24 minutes of even battling, the Methodists went on a scoring rampage which did not end until they were 20 points in the van, and when the final whistle blew the scoreboard read, 40 to 21.

Throughout the first half, Gallaudet contrived to keep in the running, even though it was never in the lead except for Cosgrove's double-decker at the very start of the game. Johnny Woods immediately brought A. U. on even terms with the first of his seven field goals of the night, and American stepped ahead with a free toss by Olsen. Maintaining their margin, the Eagles found themselves on the long end of a 10-7 score as they left the floor at the midway mark.

With four taking a hand in the scoring, the Blues overcame their foes at 13-12, but with the entrance of Warren Colison, clever A. U. forward into the game, the tide completely changed.

Colison Starts Eagles on Way to Victory.

With his team but a step behind, the newcomer gave it a margin which it never lost with three field goals in quick succession, establishing an 18-13 lead in that time.

Taking Colison's injection as a tonic, the whole American Team started shooting from all corners of the floor with the result that Gallaudet was entirely lost from then on. Woods, with his 13 points in the last half to add to his total, was the leader of the attack, although Sells found time to ring up three double-deckers and Olson came through with two. With the exception of Johnny Ringle, who found the cords for 11 points, the losers were woefully weak in finding their mark throughout the game, Cosgrove being limited to a pair of field goals by the close guarding on the part of Orville Targee.

Harrisonburg Sextet Wins 13th Straight

Special to The Washington Post.

Harrisonburg, Va., Feb. 21.—The Harrisonburg State Teachers College sextet registered its thirteenth straight victory over a two-year period tonight when it defeated the Slippery Rock Normal cagers, champions of Pennsylvania for the past four years. The score was 21 to 14.

Harrisonburg gained the lead at the start, scoring ten points before the visitors hit the loop. Slippery Rock was off in its shooting during the first half, but had few chances to score in the final two periods. The snappy passing of the Harrisonburg sextet and the shooting of Capt. Smith, who registered 13 points, featured as did the close guarding of the Pennsylvanians.

The contest was the closest staged here in several years and marked Harrisonburg's second triumph this season over the Pennsylvanians.

8 CHICAGOANS IN LEAGUE.

Eight residents of Chicago will be with American League clubs in 1930: Pitcher Jack Quinn, of the Athletics; Infielders Melillo and Grimes, of the Browns; Catcher Jorgens, of the Yankees; Infielder McManus and Catcher Steinecke, of the Tigers, and Infielder Tony Piet, recently purchased by Cleveland from Terre Haute.

VA. RINGMEN READY FOR PENN

Cavaliers Hopeful of Downing Quaker Team Tonight.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Feb. 21. Imbued with a determination to gain ample revenge for last week's disastrous defeat at the hands of the mittmen of Duke University, Virginia's Boxing Team will swing into action tomorrow night against the highly touted University of Pennsylvania leather pushers.

The match promises to be the high spot of the midwinter festivities now in progress at the University, with a thrilling bout in each division. It will be Virginia's last chance to score another victory before the Southern Conference tournament, and an abundance of thrills are promised the fair sex, here to attend the midwinter dances. Amplifiers have been installed in the gymnasium to broadcast music before and after the match and to facilitate the announcing of the bouts.

Capt. Rainey May Compete As Welter.

The probable line-up, as announced by Coach LaRowe, will find Mackie Wright, veteran Cavalier boxer, again in the lead-off role. LaGiglia, who made his debut against Florida by scoring a technical knock-out in the featherweight class, will see action against Shadell, of Pennsylvania, who recently defeated Fitzgerald, of the Navy. Smith, who also saw action against Florida, will be in charge of the lightweight class.

Capt. Bob Rainey may compete in the welterweight class. He has been having a hard time training down to the lightweight division, and LaRowe has just about made up his mind to give the team leader a chance to try his skill in the 145-pound class.

McHugh, who did not fight against Duke, will be back into the fold tomorrow night among the 165-pounders. One of the outstanding bouts of the evening and one that is anticipated with much interest is in the light heavyweight division, which will see Fenton Gentry upholding the Orange and Blue. Last week Gentry scored Virginia's only victory at Durham and hopes to add another to his growing string, which already includes two well-known fighters—John Warren, of North Carolina, and Carper, of Duke.

Goldstein Starring With Cub Ring Team.

Gerry Webb, after another week of hard training, will lock horns with Merrick, of Penn, who recently jumped to the fore with a sensational victory over Chapple, of the Navy.

The yearling boxers will end a very successful season tomorrow afternoon when they meet the junior Cadets of Virginia Military Institute. Virginia will present two stars in its line-up, who have gone through the season undefeated.

Bobby Goldstein, of Washington, D. C., who has piled up a most impressive record of three knockouts and two decisions, is expected to lead the first-year boxers to victory. Although a natural featherweight, Goldstein will move up to the lightweight class, due to the injury to Nunnally in the Duke encounter. This change is not expected to hamper the shifty fighter, who has averaged less than two rounds per fight this year. His most recent win was a knockout in 30 seconds of the first round of the Duke fight.

Silver Spring High Wins Series Opener

The Silver Spring High School Five took the lead in the Montgomery County High School Basket Ball championship series by defeating the big Poolesville Team, 18 to 14, in the first of a three-game series. Poolesville won the upper county title and Silver Spring captured the lower county title. Yesterday's game was virtually the second game of the series. The teams battled last week in a 15-15 tie, but it was not until after the game that the even score was learned.

Yesterday's fray was hard fought. The Poolesville Team offered a stanch five-man defense in the first quarter, but the victors broke up this style of play in the second quarter and took a 9-to-4 lead by intermission. The Poolesville players, who average around 6 feet in height, rallied in the final quarter and threatened to wipe out the winner's lead.

STOCK PRICES RISE IN QUIET TURNOVER

Index of 90 Shares Shows Gain as Preholiday Sales Decline.

MAIL ORDER ISSUES UP

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Share prices were buoyed up today by short covering, improvement in the commodity markets and conditional approval of the Great Northern-Northern Pacific consolidation.

Stock price indices showed an aggregate recovery of about two-thirds of yesterday's decline. The market displayed typical preholiday dullness, however, with a total turnover of only 2,566,570 shares, about 1,100,000 less than yesterday, and the smallest full day's business in a month.

The market was forced to absorb a moderate amount of hangover liquidation during the early hours of trading, but moved briskly higher during the afternoon. The obviously professional character of the market indicated that repurchases by shorts, who desired to wind up their accounts before the two-day recess, was an important factor in the rally.

Commodities Tone Is Better.

The improved tone in the commodity markets helped to restore the confidence of the bull faction, and was an additional impetus toward short covering. The Interstate Commerce Commission's conditional approval of the Northern Pacific merger plan had been indicated by publication of its general consolidation plan, but was sufficient to cause a smart run-up in the carrier stocks.

The week-end mercantile and business reviews indicated that irregular recovery was progressing at a rather slow pace. Warm weather was said to have helped the movement of spring merchandise and speeded up preparations for building and construction. Bradstreet's pointed out that the quickened movement of building materials held promise of improvement in employment.

Stock market credit eased, call money renewing at 4 per cent for the first time this week, and loaning in the "outside market" at 3½. Plentiful funds indicated that the preholiday outflow of funds to meet currency requirements had been met, and that lenders were anxious to place funds in the market for employment during the two-day recess.

Norfolk & Western Climbs.

Leading shares that were under marked pressure yesterday led the rebound today. American Can, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Radio, Delaware & Hudson, Lackawanna, Johns-Manville, New York Central, and Westinghouse were among issues rising 2 or 3 points. National Lead regained 7 of yesterday's 13-point drop, and Norfolk & Western surged up more than 9 points. U. S. Steel, however, was but moderately strong, closing up 1½ points.

The mail order shares rebounded in active trading, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck moving up between 2 and 3 points. Several low-priced specialties were taken in hand and bid up to new highs for the year, including Bullard Co., Bulova Watch, Butterick, Davison Chemical, Devoe & Raynolds, and Sparks Withington, gains running from about 2 to 5 points. A few shares closed lower, including Allied Chemical, American Machine, and International Silver off 2 to 4, and Otis Elevator, down 10.

An early rally in the cotton market failed to hold, and closing prices were about 50 cents a bale lower. Wheat stiffened on reports of better foreign buying and unfavorable weather in the Southwest. Closing prices were about 1¼ cents higher. Corn moved up ¾ cent in sympathy.

Foreign exchanges were generally a shade higher at the end of the day, although renewed pressure appeared at times. Latin-American rates showed notable improvement. Sterling cables closed steady at $4.86⅞.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Rallies from an early decline in the cotton market today were attributed largely to covering and prices were easier again in the late trading under renewed liquidation. May contracts after selling up from 15.48 to 15.63 closed at 15.49 or within a point of the lowest, and the general market closed steady at net declines of 9 to 10 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 6 to 8 points with the active months showing net losses of 7 to 10 points during the first few minutes under liquidation in the old crop months and some overnight selling orders in the later deliveries. These initial offerings were quite readily absorbed and the market turned upward on covering over the holiday and week-end, and some buying on reports of advances in the Liverpool market. March sold up from 15.21 to 15.37 and October from 15.88 to 16.03, making net advances of about 5 to 8 points during the middle of the day. Demand tapered off at these figures, however, and offerings increased following reports of reactions in the grain market. They were absorbed only after moderate setbacks during the early afternoon but later liquidation became more active and the lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading on most positions. March sold off to 15.20 and October to 15.86 and closing prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

No particular news factors were specially mentioned in connection with the late weakness. The selling was supposed to include some liquidation on reselling by early buyers of March at anticipated more pronounced rallies on preholiday covering, while there was continued liquidation of near months. Much of this was in the form of switching from March and May to the later deliveries. The closing quotations for March was about 29 points under May compared with 28 points at the close of the previous day. Liverpool cables reported covering and continental buying in that market and said that home trade in cotton goods was improving with a fair cloth inquiry from the continent and Africa.

Exports today 18,498, making 5,323,564 so far this season. Port receipts 10,780. United States stocks, 2,213,461.

BOND PRICES VARY LITTLE; RAILS LIVE

U. S. Issues Gain Slightly as Foreign Shares Are at First Busy.

CALL MONEY UNCHANGED

New York, Feb. 21 (A.P.).—A colorless week in bond trading closed today in an uninteresting session. Supply and demand were well balanced and price changes in corporation securities were largely in small fractions. United States Government issues moved higher, but failed to hold all of their advance.

Call money was a little easier. Time funds, however, remained unchanged, although the recent move by Liberty bonds and Treasury certificates would suggest that lower rates might be expected.

A handful of the rails, both prime and secondary, were active. Offerings of Rock Island refunding 4s, Chesapeake & Ohio refunding 4½s, Erie general 4s, Great Northern 7s, Nickel Plate 6s, Pennsylvania 6½s and 4¾s, New Haven 4½s, New York Central 3½s, Union Pacific 4s and Missouri Pacific 5s found ready absorption, but buyers were forced to pay little more than the Thursday closing prices.

Armour Real Estate 4½s, Chile Copper 5s, Humble Oil 1½s, Western Electric 5s, Sinclair Crude Oil 5½s and Detroit Edison refunding 5s were miscellaneous favorites, but the demand lacked depth and gains ruled small. Santa Fe 4½s and American Telephone 4½s, each with a 2 point rise, featured the convertibles.

Foreign bonds gave promise of a busy day during the forenoon, but trading thinned out later and the close was irregular. French 7½s hovered just under 121, making an insignificant change. British 5½s, German 7s, Tokyo Electric 6s and Cuba 5½s were firm. Bulgaria 7s lost about 2½ points of their recent rise. Belgium 6s sold up a point at the opening and then eased for a small net loss. Latin Americans made conflicting changes.

Trading obligations of the United States centered in the Treasury 4¼s, which were bid up to 111. They closed slightly off from that level, making a net gain of about ⅛.

Public offering is expected to be made next Monday of a $9,400,000 issue of Canadian National Steamships 25-year 5 per cent bonds, guaranteed by the Canadian government. Part of the loan has been withdrawn for sale in Canada.

HEAD OF INSTITUTE WILL SPEAK HERE

W. J. Evans, of Dallas, Is to Give Principal Talk at Bankers' Banquet.

DINNER IS FOR TONIGHT

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

William Joseph Evans, president of the American Institute of Banking, and principal speaker at the twenty-sixth annual banquet of its local chapter tonight at the Willard Hotel, is a native of Tennessee, where he received his preparatory and collegiate education.

He was graduated with honors from Union University, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. Afterward, he attended law school and was admitted to the bar in 1900. After practicing for a brief period, he moved to Dallas, Tex., where he became connected with the American Exchange National Bank.

In 1917 he accepted a position as secretary of the Mayor of Dallas and had charge of military registration in that city in connection with the first draft. He resigned his municipal position in 1918 to accept the secretaryship of the Government's capital issues committee for the Eleventh Federal Reserve District, and at the conclusion of his service in this capacity, was engaged by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas as manager of the department of research and statistics.

Is a U. S. Reserve Agent.

He was subsequently appointed manager of the bank examination department and in 1923 was promoted to the bank's official staff as assistant Federal Reserve agent in charge of examinations, research, statistics, member bank relations and the bank's Monthly Review of Business and Industrial Conditions.

In 1911, he enrolled as a member of Dallas Chapter of the institute and served in various capacities until 1914, when, after completing the study courses and receiving his standard certificate, he was elected president of the chapter. Early in his association with the institute, he became active in the national organization and has attended 11 of its national conventions.

After serving on a number of national committees, he was elected to the executive council in 1923 and was instrumental in organizing five new chapters in the Southwest. At the Philadelphia convention in 1928, he was elected vice president of the institute and at the Tulsa convention in 1929, became president.

Other Notables to Attend.

Besides President Evans, other distinguished guests who will be in attendance are Gov. Roy A. Young, of the Federal Reserve Board, Chairman W. W. Hoxton, of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank, of Richmond; Vice Gov. Edmund Platt, and Member George R. James, of the Federal Reserve Board; W. O. Wood, Treasurer of the United States; District Commissioner Sidney R. Tallaferro, Representative Charles J. Linthicum, of Maryland; Adm. T. J. Cowie, U. S. N.; Postmaster W. M. Mooney, Merle Thorpe, editor of Nation's Business; R. W. Byers, chief national bank examiner; Lloyd B. Wilson, president, Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., and Waldo Newcomber, chairman, Baltimore Clearing House Association.

The first issue of The Teller, publication of the Federal-American Club of Federal-American National Bank employes, made its appearance yesterday and is a newsy, well-edited paper. On the first page appears the greetings of John Poole, president of the bank, and a biography of Walton L. Sanderson, the club president. The second, third and fourth pages are devoted to society, women's and banking institute news, gossip, humorous contributions and poetry.

Officers of the club are Mr. Sanderson, president; H. K. Warner, vice president; Vivian Stokes, secretary; G. O. Wilson, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Lois A. White, charity; H. K. Warner, entertainment, and Helen L. Pearce, birthday box.

NEWS OF LATEST HAPPENINGS IN MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

FAIRFAX TEACHERS TO MEET IN APRIL

54 CARS ON HONOR ROLL

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Vienna, Va.
Phone Vienna 64.

An invitation to the District H School Teachers Association to hold its next meeting in Falls Church has been accepted and the meeting will be held in the Madison Schoolhouse Friday and Saturday, April 11 and 12. Teachers from the schools in Alexandria City and Fairfax, Arlington, Prince William, Loudoun, Fauquier and Rappahannock Counties will attend the meeting, at which questions of interest to them will be discussed so that they may obtain new ideas for their work in the classrooms.

The report of the Virginia Educational Association shows that Fairfax County has the largest membership of any county in District H, and it is not exceeded by many of the cities in any of the counties of the State. The report shows that Fairfax has 144 members, Arlington, 134; Loudoun, 132; Culpeper, 78; Prince William, 74; Fauquier, 51; Rappahannock, 45, and Alexandria City, 81. Crockett C. Carr is the president of District H and is said to be one of the most active presidents in the State.

For some time there was a question as to whether the schools of Fairfax County would be represented in the coming national oratorical contest, but in view of the plan to give a medal and cash prize to the winner in the county contest, several schools are planning to enter. Madison School, at Falls Church, has announced its decision to participate in the contest, and the Oakton, Floris and McLean High Schools have also decided to enter.

At a meeting of the Vienna Music Club, Arthur Harkness was elected president, Mrs. Louis Wright, treasurer, and Mrs. Walter Allensworth, secretary.

Fire started by burning grass destroyed the garage and a new car at the home of O. L. Strock, on Park street, in Vienna, Thursday afternoon. In attempting to save the car, Mrs. Strock was severely burned about the arms and body. Mrs. Strock started a small fire on the side of the yard, to burn trash, this set fire to the grass and flames spread rapidly. While trying to keep the flames from encroaching beyond into the yard of her neighbor, she looked up and saw that her own garage had caught fire. She then attempted to drive the car from the building and while doing so was burnt. The flames drove her from the garage before she could save the car. The Vienna Volunteer Fire Department was then called by neighbors who were attracted by the flames, but the department was unable to save the garage and contents and it was with great difficulty that they kept the flames from spreading to the residence. The loss was estimated to be about $1,400.

Yesterday was the first day of the recently inaugurated policy of the Arlington Fairfax Electric Railway in which it allowed a special one-day round-trip ticket for the shoppers. These tickets are sold to the persons on the line between Fairfax and Falls Church to Washington and Rosslyn, at a slight increase over the regular one-way fare. They are only good on the date sold, which will be every Friday and Tuesday of each week.

The Fairfax Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Catherine Walters, 4121 Military Road, in Washington. It was voted to appropriate $50 to be used by Dr. W. B. Everett, of Fauquier County, for the work in the mountains of the State. $10 was also voted toward the fund for the restoration of Stratford, the home of Gen. Robert E. Lee. An invitation was received from the Mount Vernon Chapter, at Alexandria, whose regent is Mrs. C. A. S. Sinclair, to attend the open house of the chapter at 121 North Washington street, in Alexandria today, during the Washington birthday celebration. Mrs. George Uhler will act as hostess.

The Fairfax Chapter yesterday elected delegates to the national D. A. R. congress, which is to be held in Washington beginning April 14. Mrs Franklin Williams is the regent, and Mrs. Catherine Walters, regent's alternate; Mrs. M. Lucia Corey, of Washington, was elected delegate. Other alternates elected were Mrs. Mary Ames, Erita, Va.; Dr. Jessie Thornton Scott, of Vienna; Mrs. Durward Smith, of Ballston; Mrs. J. C. Anderson, of Clarendon; Mrs. C. L. Shear, of Rosslyn; Mrs. William C Welburn, of Ballston; Mrs. Buford Bridwell, of Falls Church; Mrs. Lawrence M Brown, of Washington; Mrs. Milford Witt, of Clarendon, and Mrs. Harry Keyser, of Falls Church.

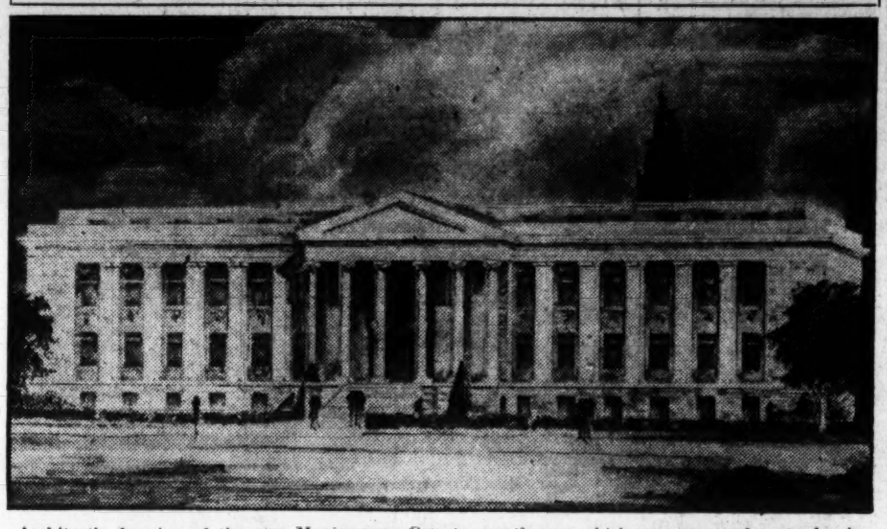
A home-nursing class with a large membership has been organized among the women of Floris by Mrs Herbert L. Seamons, Fairfax County health and Red Cross nurse. Mrs Seamons will give the members of the class instruction in bedside nursing each Friday afternoon for the next three months. The Red Cross plans to extend these nursing instruction classes to all sections of the county so that the sick can receive practical care from the members of the household or their neighbors.

Dr. Robert W Moss, the dentist connected with the Fairfax County Health Unit, for the dental examination of the pupils at the school clinics, has made his report for the first twenty days of this month so that it may be sent to and reviewed by the State appropriations committee by March 1 as the State pays one-half of the cost of the dental clinics. He reports that he has examined 560 pupils and has made 82 extractions, 64 fillings and 137 silver nitrate treatments and 16 cleanings. He collected $80.50. This month the total cost to the county was $46.27.

There were 1,054 cows tested in the Fairfax No. 2 Dairy Herd Improvement Association during the month of January and of that number 123 were dry, 41 sold to the butchers, 140 were 40-pound cows and 54 on the honor roll, which is the largest number on that roll in the history of the association.

The total production for the month was 686,404 pounds of milk, and 27,195.1 pounds of butter fat, with an average of 653.7 pounds of milk and 25.99 pounds of fat. This, with an increase of 312 cows, is an increase of 78.8 pounds of milk and 22 pounds of fat over the same month of the previous year. The herd of A. M. Schuerman has led the association for the last three months by making an average for last month of 1,004.9 pounds of milk and 42.18 pounds of butter fat. A pure-bred Holstein cow belonging to John B. Dowden at Baileys Cross Roads made the high individual cow record by producing 2,220 pounds of milk and 97.6 pounds of butter fat.

NEW MONTGOMERY COUNTY COURTHOUSE



Architect's drawing of the new Montgomery County courthouse, which was approved yesterday by the Montgomery County general courthouse building committee. This design, prepared by Architect Delos H. Smith, has been approved by the Fine Arts Commission.

COUNTY COURTHOUSE ARCHITECT RESIGNS

JURYMEN ARE DRAWN

Declaring that he was not in sympathy with the design for the new Montgomery County courthouse, approved last night by the general building commission, Russell E. Mitchell, courthouse architect, tendered his resignation, which was accepted.

The resignation followed the report of the subcommittee on architectural design, headed by Capt. Chester C. Wells, which recommended the approval of a design presented by Delos H. Smith, consultant architect, which had been approved by the Fine Arts Commission. Mr. Mitchell tendered his resignation in a written communication.

He said: "In view of the recommendation of the Fine Arts Commission for a different type of architecture which has been accepted by the Montgomery County general courthouse building committee and with which I am not in accord, I hereby tender my resignation as architect for the new Rockville courthouse of Montgomery County."

The committee accepted the resignation and appointed Delos H. Smith, who had been serving as consultant architect, to be architect. Mr. Smith's plan for a monumental type building of Indiana limestone was approved. His fee as architect is to be 6 per cent on the estimated building cost of $425,000, less the payments which had been made to Mr. Mitchell.

Architect Smith told the committee that he will be prepared to advertise for bids in approximately 75 days.

The general committee appointed a special subcommittee, which is to be known as the subcommittee on plans and construction, which is to meet with the architect weekly until construction is well under way. The subcommittee is empowered to act for the general committee except where major changes are proposed in the construction of the building, or there is a major change in cost.

The subcommittee appointed was as follows: Capt. Chester C. Wells, George P. Sacks, Berry E. Clark, clerk to the county commissioners; Preston B. Ray, clerk of the Circuit Court; George E. Hamilton, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, County Commissioner Lacy Shaw, Otho H. W. Talbott, H. F. Taff, and Maj. J. Rogers Spates, of Rockville.

The names of 48 persons were drawn yesterday by Judge Robert E. Peter and Clerk of the Circuit Court Preston B. Ray to serve on the grand and petit juries in the March term of the Montgomery County Circuit Court at Rockville. The March term will open March 17.

The names of 200 persons previously selected by Judge Peter were placed in a large box divided into thirteen sections, each section representing an election district. The names of the residents of each district were placed in the compartment for that district and the quota for their section drawn from that compartment. The jurors' names were drawn by Mr. Ray and handed to the judge in the presence of members of the Rockville bar.

The docket for the March term probably will be light, according to Preston B. Ray, although there may be additions later. The judge will select a foreman for the grand jury and select 22 other members for that body at the opening of court. The remaining members will serve on the petit jury.

Those whose names were given Sheriff Joseph B. Pyles for service as jurymen are as follows:

First Election District, William S. Magruder, Edward F. Riordan, Lewis Duvall; Second District, Samuel H. Browning, Luther G. Burdette, John B. Thompson; Third District, Benoni D. Allnutt, William W. Poole, Charles S. Butler, Julius Hall; Fourth District, Hugh Rabbitt, C. Clifton Veirs, Joseph H. Ward, Thomas T. Mullican, James J. McLaughlin, George C. Frye; Fifth District, John T. Beall, Thomas C. Marlowe, T. Lamar Jackson, Andrew J. Thompson; Sixth District, John F. Hargett, Charles M. Thrift, Frank G. Schaeffer; Seventh District, E. Winsor Offutt, Chester C. Bogley, John H Stout; Eighth District, Ward Savage, Lawrason B. Riggs, Richard B. Downs, Charles T. Nicholson; Ninth District, Jacob T. Gartner, Granville E. Kinsey, John B. Diamond, jr., Walter M. Magruder; Tenth District, Matthew J. Harris, Walter P. Allen, Ira S. Ricketts; Eleventh District, Lawrence H. Price, John J. Umstead, William Windsor Hodges; Twelfth District, John A. Howard, Ernest D. Duvall, Maurice Cue; Thirteenth District, Alexandria H. Plitt, William A. Fidler, Aloysius Kelly, William P. Wilson, James T. Cashell.

Willis B. Burdette, 58 years old, Rockville postmaster for the past four years, died at his home in Rockville yesterday morning. He had the distinction of having been one of the two Republicans who have served in the State Senate from Montgomery County since the Civil War. He had just been recommended for reappointment as postmaster, according to a communication received from Representative Frederick N. Zihlman.

Mr. Burdette had not been well for some time, but had been able to attend to his duties as postmaster. He complained of feeling badly yesterday morning and died about 8 o'clock. Cause of death was given as heart trouble. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at the Rockville Methodist Church at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Burdette was a lifelong resident of the county, having been born in Brookeville about 30 years ago. He was county superintendent of schools for a number of years, served one term in the House of Delegates and was State senator in 1920. He was a member of the Rockville Town Council and was elected mayor, but was found to be ineligible because he was superintendent of schools at the time. He was prominent in Republican politics and was at one time chairman of the Republican State central committee for the county. He was a member of the Rockville Methodist Church and was identified with the Sunday school work of that church.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Aubrey Burdette, of Groveton, Va.; a brother, Moody Burdette, and two sisters, Mrs. Dorsey Day and Mrs. Lillie Umberger, all of Browningsville.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT PAYS $10 SPEED FINE

Former Prohibition Aid and Court Officials Manage to Elude Press.

QUERIES ARE WHISPERED

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant Attorney General in charge of prohibition enforcement, was fined $10 yesterday when she faced Judge Ralph Given in Traffic Court on a charge of speeding.

Mrs. Willebrandt did a clever dodging act, eluding the curious going in and photographers when she embarked. Her trial, while in open court, was held so secretly that few persons in the courtroom realized a trial was in progress. Mrs. Willebrandt ducked into the courtroom early and went to Judge Given's office, where she remained until the judge left to go to his courtroom.

Policeman W. B. Hopkins was already in the witness box.

"Thirty-eight miles an hour, your honor." The policeman had even caught the whispering habit.

"Suppose I fine you $10," Judge Given said quietly to Mrs. Willebrandt, who, after getting a $20 bill changed, paid the fine.

FIRE DESTROYS CHURCH

As the result of a fight over 25 cents, Wesley Spriggs, colored, is to serve twelve months in the Maryland House of Correction. He was sentenced yesterday in Upper Marlboro branch of Prince Georges County Police Court by Judge J. Chew Sheriff. He was charged with assault and battery.

Spriggs is alleged to have cut the face of John H. Jones, also colored, until he was unrecognizable, in the course of an altercation at a colored dance in the Newton Hill Colored School near Mitchellville. The fight started when one of the men demanded the payment of 25 cents which he claimed the other owed him. Two other colored men, who joined in the fray, were fined $25 each. They were Frank Spriggs and Eugene Deal.

Alfredia Landrum, colored, of Washington, was seriously injured and three men, also colored, were arrested yesterday morning when an automobile and a truck collided at Forestville. The Landrum woman was brought to Casualty Hospital and treated for a fractured left leg. John Hamilton Gall, of Baltimore, was charged with reckless driving, Joseph Tolliver, of Washington, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and Richard Ellison was charged with being drunk and disorderly by State Policeman W T. Booker.

A colored church near Mellwood was destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire started in nearby woods and spread to the church. Several other dwellings were saved by the firemen of the Seat Pleasant, Capitol Heights, Greater Capitol Heights, Boulevard Heights and Marlboro Volunteer Fire Departments.

CLARENDON PRIEST HONORED BY BISHOP

BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

The Rev. Thomas J. Rankin, pastor of St. Charles Catholic Church, Clarendon, has been designated by the Rt. Rev. Andrew J. Brennan, Bishop of Richmond, Va., as the pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, at Alexandria, with the title of Very Reverend. He has also been made dean of the northern section of Virginia.

Father Rankin came to Arlington County from Winchester, Va., four years ago, succeeding the Rev. Frank P. Lackey. He will be succeeded by the Rev. John A. Curran, who comes to Arlington County from Harpers Ferry, Va. Father Rankin succeeds the late Very Rev. William A. McKeefry, at St Mary's, at Alexandria. Both Father Rankin and Father Curran were ordained in Baltimore, June 20, 1906, by the late Cardinal Gibbons.

Responding to a communication from Lester C. Bennett, executive secretary of the Arlington County Civic Federation, asking them to indorse the recent action of the federation calling for expenditure of $100,000 for a new jail, the Lyon Park Woman's Club last night went on record as opposed to expenditure of any money for a new jail until crowded conditions of the Arlington County public schools have been corrected.

Bond issues for additional school buildings and for a comprehensive sewer system are regarded by the organization as being a necessity in the near future, and the members spoke feelingly against the proposal to have the county board of supervisors obligate the public treasury for a new jail building until it is known how much will be needed for schools and sewers.

The existence of a jail improvement fund of more than $11,000, which has been untouched in the county treasury for more than three years was mentioned in the discussion as minimizing the necessity for a new building at this time. Copies of the resolution were ordered sent the county board of supervisors and to the Arlington County Civic Federation.

Representative Jeff Busby, of Mississippi, will be the principal speaker at the joint meeting of Columbia Lodge No. 285 A. F. and A. M., and the Cherrydale Lodge, No. 42, A. F. and A. M., to be held in the Masonic Temple at Cherrydale tonight.

The Master Mason's degree will be conferred.

The monthly meeting of the East Potomac Federation Baptist Young People's Union will be held Tuesday night in the Cherrydale Baptist Church at 8 o'clock. Representative Edward M. Beers, of Pennsylvania, is announced as the principal speaker.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Cherrydale Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the church.

FALWELL ESCAPES JAIL IN LYNCHBURG

UNDER TWO-YEAR TERM

Lynchburg, Va., Feb. 21 (A.P.).—Garland W. Falwell, fugitive from the Lynchburg Jail, this afternoon had again escaped police and was believed by officers to have fled from Franklin County, while they, armed with riot guns, searched for him at a mountain house he visited yesterday.

C. C. Lee, Commonwealth's attorney, told police he had admissions from a family named Shively, filling station operators near Rocky Mount, that Falwell spent yesterday at their home. They asserted, however, that the fugitive left last night.

Falwell is under a two-year penitentiary sentence for "feloniously shooting" Gus Wiltshire, a Washington and Lee University student. He pleaded guilty to charges of attacking men and women students accompanying Wiltshire, also. He was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail upon completion of his penitentiary sentence. He escaped from the jail late Wednesday while awaiting removal to the State prison.
